

Hoffman Equipment From Newmarket Goes On The Royal Train

Made especially for Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, a Hoffman press made in Newmarket was shipped last Friday to be ready for the royal train.

The press will be installed in a special valet car. It will be part of the equipment to take care of the wardrobes for the royal couple and other dignitaries who will travel by the ten-car train in Eastern Canada.

Workmen put the finishing touches to the press last Friday morning at the Canadian Hoffman Co. Ltd. plant on Charles St. Although railway officials merely asked if they would supply a press, they will receive a special "royal tour" press.

The "princess" press, as it became known around the plant, is a gleaming piece of machinery carefully finished like no ordinary press. The metal was buffed and parts and fittings were plated to shine like silver.

It is not the first "royal" press that Hoffman workmen have built. When the king and queen visited Canada in 1939, a similar press was on the valet car. But Hoffman's contribution to royal visits goes back further than that. The United States plant supplied a press when the Prince of Wales visited the U.S.A. The tradition was carried on from there.

The press will be supplied only while the royal tour is on, as requested. After that it will be returned and probably sold. The press used for the king and queen went to the Royal Valet Service, a cleaning and pressing plant in Toronto. First installed in a front window, it caused a line-up of onlookers for several days.

Plant Manager Dewey Khuns said that the press was prepared on short notice. The request allowed Hoffman workmen a week to have it ready. The valet car will be a Canadian National Railway car although the train will be made up of both C.N.R. and C.P.R. cars.

WILL RECEIVE $300 SCHOLARSHIP

The Ontario Command of the Canadian Legion announced yesterday that Mike Maughan, Aurora, is to be given a $300 Legion scholarship.

The Aurora high school student won this beside the John Stuart scholarship. He had highest marks in grade 13. The Legion award is given to 20 students throughout Ontario who are sons or daughters of veterans.

Mike is the son of A. E. L. Maughan, Aurora, a member of the Aurora branch of the Canadian Legion.

FLORIST MOVES

Township Rate 30.2, Schools Raised 5.4 In East Gwillimbury

The East Gwillimbury township council struck a township rate of 30.2 mills, a mill higher than last year, at its regular monthly meeting on Saturday.

To the township rate is added, rates for the 20 school sections, including unions which averages at 13.2 mills, an average increase of 5.4 mills over last year.

The new rate breaks down as follows: county, 6.1; high schools, 5.2; roads, 10.4; general purposes, 6; relief and hospitalization, 2.5.

The county rate is up .6 mills and the high school rate is up 2.6 mills. It was noted in the report that the total of these increases plus the average school increase, is 8.6 mills and was made by levying bodies over which, it was said, the township council had no control.

Other council business was the sale of debentures for $8,550 on the water main at Bolton and Lundy avenues for 4 1/2 percent; the report of Chief Constable J. E. Jardine that fines paid for the month of June amounted to over $800, and also that he had not yet received an application for the position of part-time police officer.

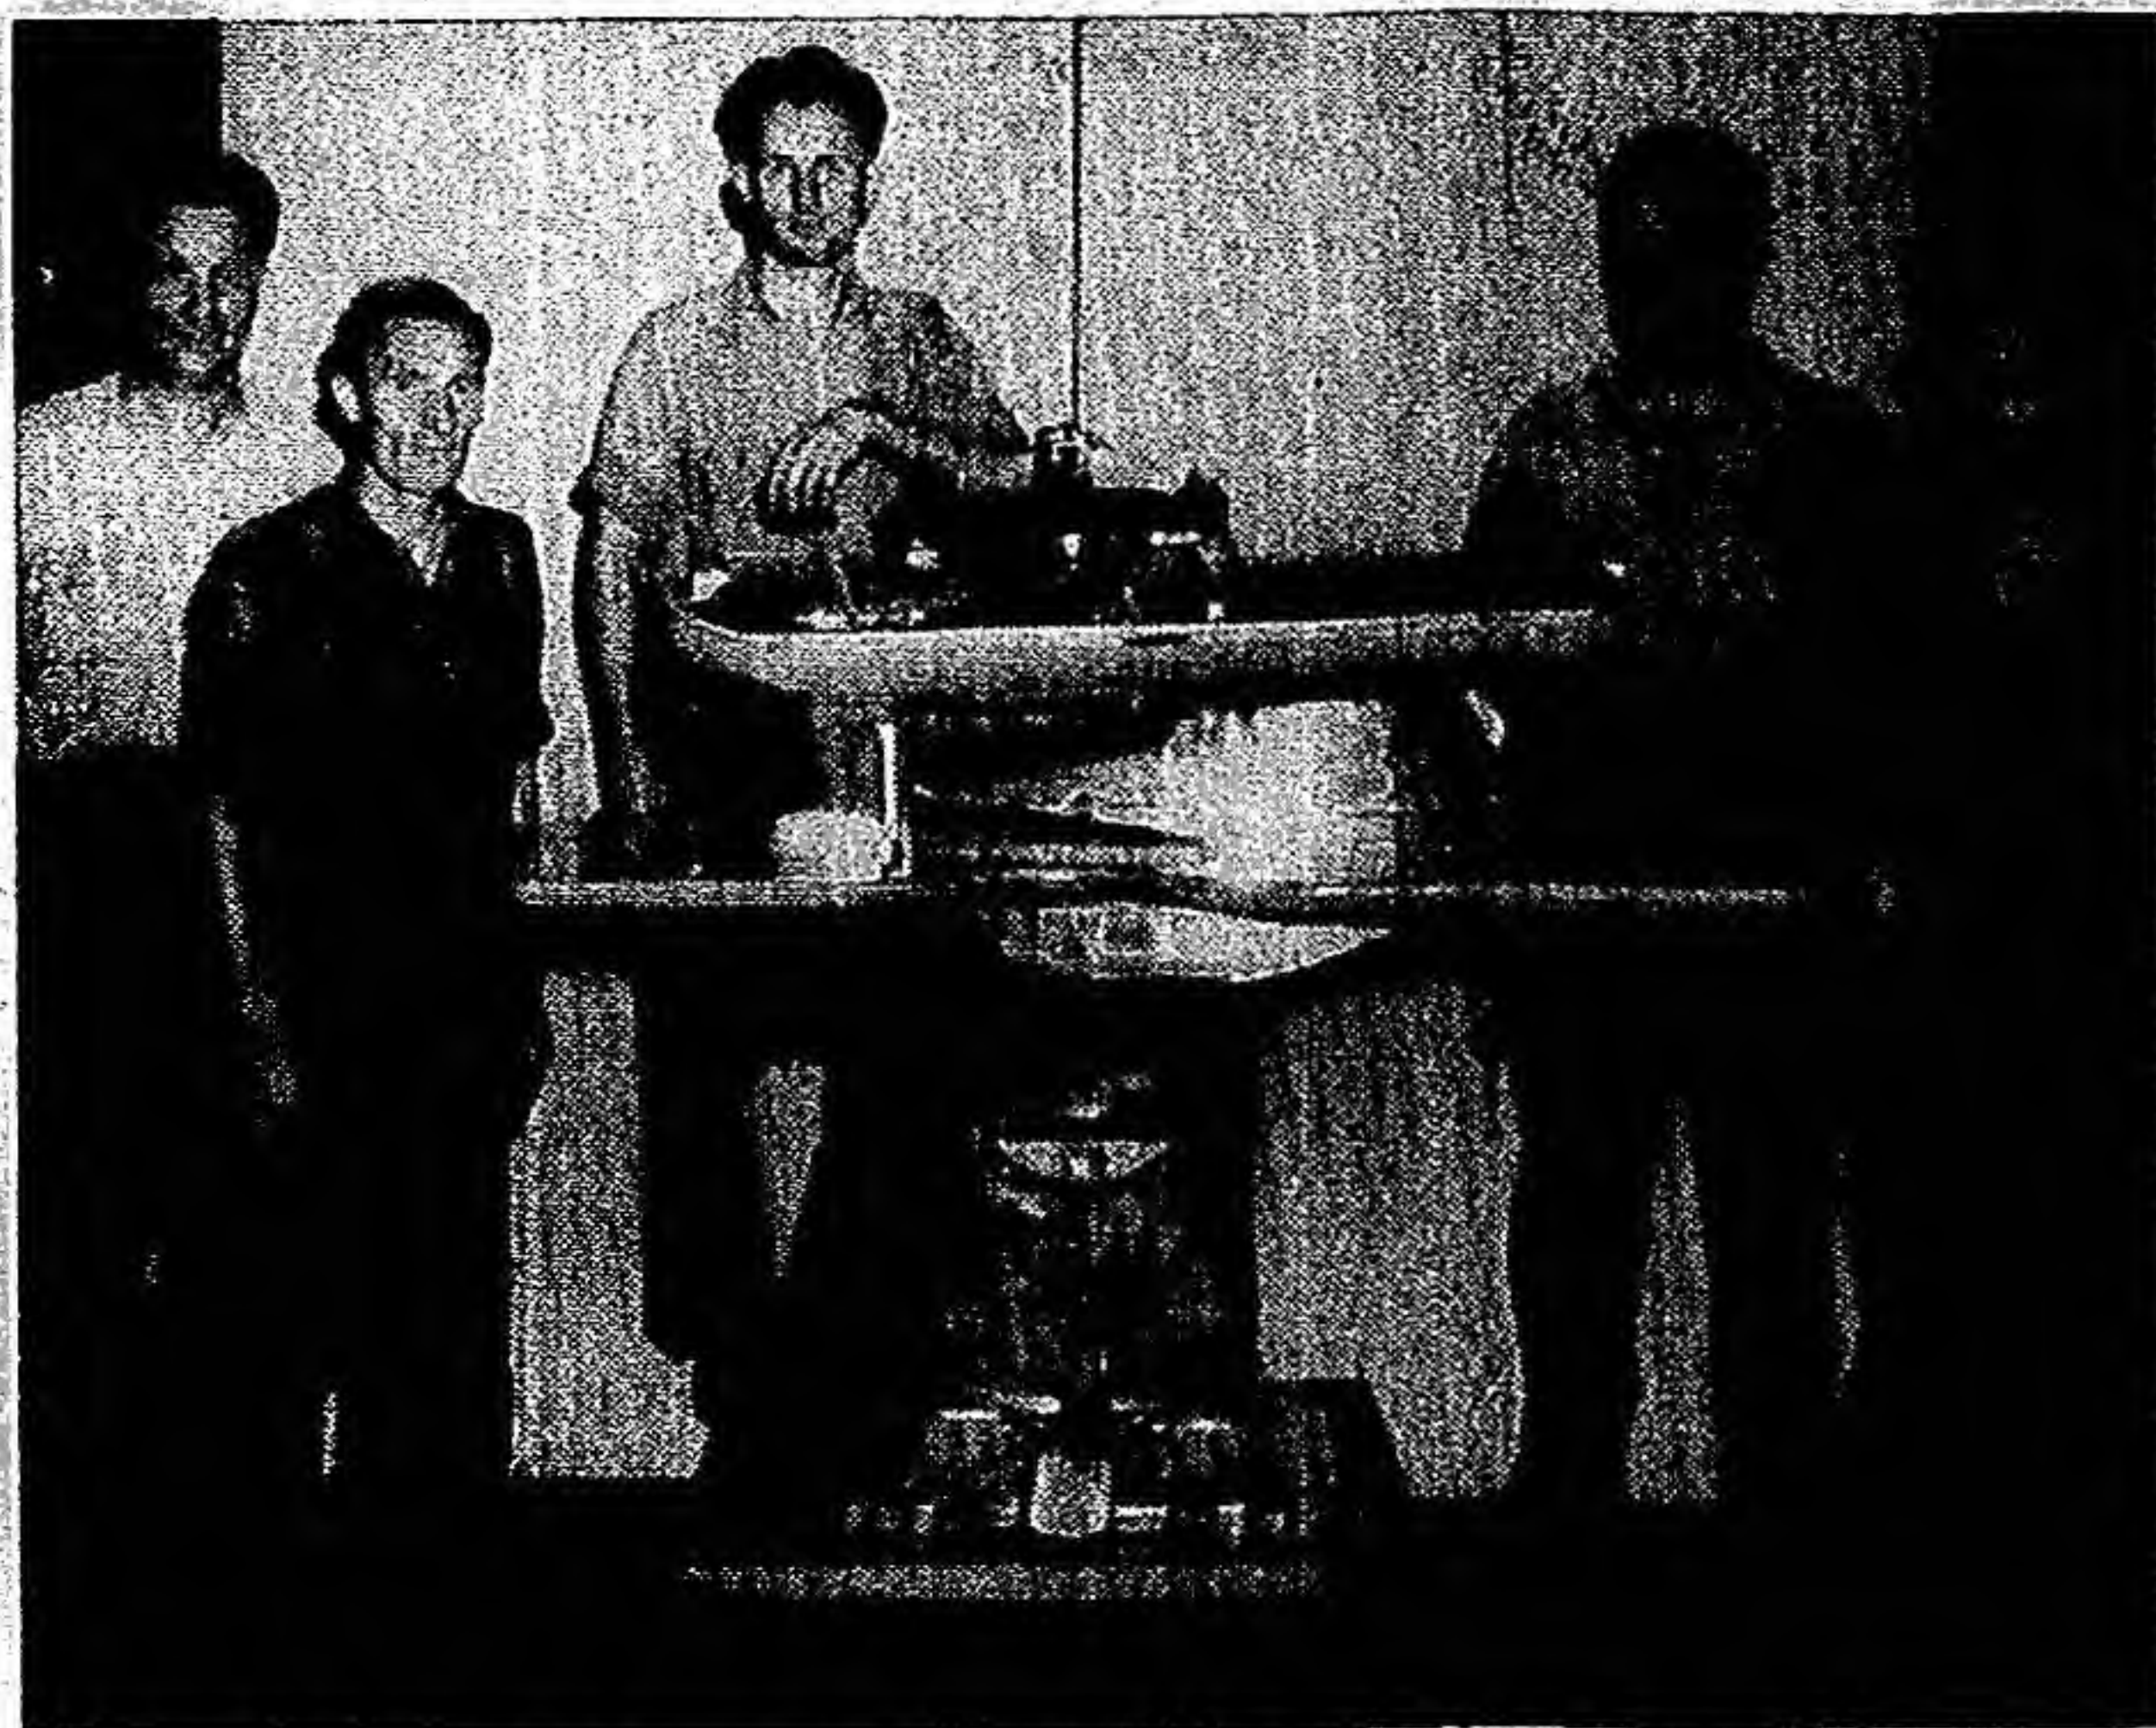

The board of health ordered the provision of dental services for S.S. 10. The clerk was instructed to insure the new township building for $12,000. Wm. Slorach was given the contract to supply and install the heating equipment in the new building, Valley View Drive on lot 3, con. 2, and the extension of Pen Ave. on plan 128 and Howard Ave. on plan 325 were included within the township system.

The township has been declared a sub-division controlled area and all small parcels of land of less than ten acres must be approved by the York County Planning board before being allowed to be registered unless the property is already included in a registered plan.

CORRECTION

A source of information for a report last week produced an incorrect statement in the Era and Express that hydro workmen neglected to rescue a stranded cat. Residents called offices of some public services but not the hydro, a week ago Monday, to rescue a cat which was stranded at the top of a hydro pole overnight. When called Monday evening, hydro crewmen immediately went to the rescue.

A product of Hoffman's, made by Newmarket workers, the press for the royal couple's valet railway car during their tour of the eastern part of the country was completed and shipped last Friday. WILCOX THEFT RING BELIEVED STOPPED

Police believe that an end has been put to a juvenile theft ring operating in the Lake Wilcox area with the arrest on Monday of nine boys, aged nine to 14 years. The arrests were made after police had investigated the theft of chocolates and cigarettes from the community hall. The stolen articles were found in a sand pit.

O.P.P. Const. Holdsworth, who made the arrests, said that the operations of the ring were quite professional. They usually worked in gangs of two or three and they specialized in summer cottages.

The boys would wait until summer cottage owners had left for an evening and then break into the cottages which they thoroughly ransacked. The damage often was greater than the value of the articles stolen.

School's In, The Town Is Quiet Child Grown Up, Home No More

A strange quietness lies over Newmarket. It is Tuesday, Sept. 4 and school has re-opened for another year.

No Pied Piper appeared on the streets but children from five years of age on disappeared as completely as if such a visit had been made. Some with reluctance left the familiarity of their homes; others rushed to meet new experiences; some clung to their mothers.

Walking home, each mother retraced more than just the road to her house. The intervening years from infancy to this day passed before her mind's eye. There was the baby, so small and helpless that she was overcome with an anxiety that she'd never be able to take care of him properly. Gradually he changed from a small bundle requiring almost constant attention to an individual rewarding those who cared for him with flashing smiles and looks of recognition. One day he has a tooth. On another he attempts to stand. Baby ways are left behind. One year there are three candles on the cake. He is interested in other children, enjoying playtime more if he has companions. "Why, Mama?" appears with exasperating regularity in his conversation. Yes, it is a long way back home. It covers five years of growing; five years when he be-

Hessian Fly Losses No Reason For Winter Wheat Acreage Cut

Because of the heavy loss in this year's winter wheat crop from Hessian Fly, with yields reduced to five bushels per acre in some districts, some farmers are cutting down on their acreage for this fall. Agricultural authorities, however, suggest this should not be necessary. However they do urge farmers to delay the date of seeding somewhat to reduce the possibility of damage from this pest.

Any pupae of the Hessian Fly in this year's crop that has not been plowed under will produce an adult fly which emerges in late August or early September. This fly looks for some early sown or perhaps volunteer wheat on which to lay its eggs in early September.

By delaying seeding till approximately mid-September, there is less possibility of a fly laying eggs on the new crop before the fly dies. The use of fertilizer steps up the growth and compensates for later seeding. It should be understood however, as Agricultural Representative W. M. Cockburn, Newmarket, points out, that late seeding only reduces and might not entirely prevent infestation since a warm open fall might delay emergence of the Hessian Fly.

The Ontario Agricultural College has published a short pamphlet on the life history of the fly and methods of control which can be secured from the office of the Ontario Department of Agriculture at Newmarket.

GET BIKES TAPED FOR SAFETY, FRIDAY

As a part of their safety campaign, the Newmarket Home and School association sponsored a Scotchlite-a-bike program prior to the closing of school in June.

In this program, bikes of all youngsters registered in the elementary schools in town were taped with a reflective material. Silver tape was applied in June, but as the tape had not arrived, the bikes did not receive the latter tape.

Members of the Home and School association will be at the schools on Friday morning, Sept. 7, to apply this Scotchlite tape. Youngsters are requested to have their bikes at the elementary schools which they are now attending. Those pupils who were in Grade 8 last year and are now at high school should have someone bring their bikes to the elementary school they attended last year. If it is impossible for them to do this, they may bring their bikes directly to the home of association's president, Mrs. Howard Morton, Lorne Ave. to have the tape applied.

Elementary school children who have new bikes or were unable to have the red tape applied in June may receive both colors at the schools tomorrow. Those who are able to do so, are requested to pay 25 cents per bike for both the silver and the red tapes.

MORRISON, LAMONT NEW REEVE, DEPUTY ELECTED IN SUTTON

Grover Morrison was elected to the office of reeve of Sutton last Friday. The election, which was made necessary by the death of Reeve Charles Scott, saw the defeat of Miss Lillian Holborn by George Lamont for the deputy reeveship.

Morrison defeated William J. Park, the other candidate for reeve, by a slight margin of 15 votes. Morrison polled 278 votes against Park's 263.

Morrison was reeve of Sutton before the late Charles Scott. He is a garage operator in Sutton.

Miss Holborn, who has been a candidate a number of times previously in both Sutton and North Gwillimbury township elections, was defeated by George Lamont, a Sutton contractor, by 32 votes. Miss Holborn is a property owner in both Sutton and North Gwillimbury.

THROWN FROM CAR, FOUR INJURED AT DEAD END OF ROAD

Four persons were thrown from a convertible car which overturned in Whitechurch township early Monday morning when the driver applied his brakes at the end of a road.

William Starkey, 22, Aurora, one of the passengers, was taken to York County hospital, Newmarket, suffering from a fractured skull. His condition was first described serious but now is reported favorable.

The car was travelling along the third concession of Whitechurch, 1 1/4 miles south of Wellington St. When the driver, Edward Flood, Jefferson, realized that he was coming to a dead-end, he suddenly applied his brakes. The occupants were catapulted from the car.

Others injured were Mrs. Mary Clarke, Lake Wilcox, who suffered from a broken collar bone and head lacerations, Mrs. Dorothy Cunningham, an injured arm, and the driver, Edward Flood, slight face cuts.

Flood's new convertible was damaged to the extent of $1,200.

WINNERS OF AURORA H. S. AWARDS

J. H. Knowles, principal of Aurora high school, made an announcement yesterday of the Aurora high school awards. The John Stuart award of $200 went to Mike Maughan, Aurora, who stood highest in grade 13.

A $75 award went to Robert Staley, Vandon, who stood highest among Whitechurch township students attending Aurora high school.

According to Mr. Knowles, the registration figures for the new term show 137 in grade 9 and 386 in the whole school.

WINS C.N.E. PRIZE

Mrs. T. A. Mitchell, Newmarket, attended the Food Products' day luncheon at the C.N.E. given by the women's division. Hostess was Kate Aitken. Mrs. Mitchell won a four-pound package of biscuits as the only representative from Newmarket present. Mrs. Mitchell is a past president of the Newmarket Women's Institute. She judges annually for the provincial department of agriculture at many of the fall shows throughout central Ontario. Mrs. Mitchell judges the women's contributions of needlework, crafts, cooking and baking at the fairs.

Also installed was F. Comer, Sutton, deputy zone commander. Mr. Hulse cancelled other engagements in Toronto to carry out his first official function as provincial commander. Representatives of eight Legion branches attended the installations.

SEES 1900-1951 CHANGE

Renews Exhibition Visit After 50 Years

When Miss Elizabeth Egan, 8th concession of King township, attended the Canadian National Exhibition on music day last week, she could scarcely believe she was there. Her previous visit to the exhibition was 50 years ago, in 1900.

Miss Egan, who is now 81 years old, said that the sights and changes were unbelievable to her. "I had thought about the Exhibition for a long time but I never dreamed it could be carried out on such a large scale. It is nothing like the fair I saw in 1900," she said.

Half a century ago she was

If the Board of Transport Commissioners grants the Bell Telephone Co.'s new application for increased rates, it will mean an increase of 70 cents a month for the single line phone user in Newmarket, and 50 cents for the single line phone user in Aurora.

Present monthly rates in Newmarket and Aurora for individual residence lines are $3.05. The company's application for increases would make the monthly rate in Newmarket $3.75 and Aurora $3.55.

The company has asked for the increases in phone charges because of increases in wage rates, tax levels and other costs. The increase is designed to raise the estimated operating revenues by about 10 percent.

The application filed with the Board of Transport Commissioners asks that the proposed revisions be made effective October 1 either as interim or as established rates.

A comparison of the proposed increases for Newmarket shows: for homes, individual line, present rate, $3.05; proposed rate, $3.75; increase, .70; two-party line, $2.65; $3; .35; rural, $2.45; $2.90; .45;

For business phones, individual line, present rate, $5; proposed rate, $6.75; increase, $1.75; two-party line, $4.25; $5.50; $1.25; rural, $3.25; $4.25; $1; PBX trunk, $7.50, $10.25; $2.75.

A comparison of the proposed increase for Aurora shows: residence, individual line, present rate, $3.05; proposed rate, $3.55;

increase, .50; two-party line, $2.65; $2.90; .25; rural, $2.45; $2.80; .35;

For business phones, individual line, present rate, $5; proposed rate, $6; increase, $1; two-party line, $4.25; $5; .75; rural, $3.25; $4; .75; PBX trunk, $7.50; $9; $1.50.

Differences in the proposed increases for Newmarket and Aurora are explained by the difference in the size of the operation in the two towns. Newmarket has over 2,000 phones on its switchboard while Aurora has about 1,400.

There are no increases in long distance rates.

This is the second increase the Bell has sought. The first was applied for in October, 1949, and went into effect last January 1. Despite this increase, the company's earnings continued to drop.

In addition to having to meet higher operating costs, the company has since the war carried on an extensive construction program involving gross construction costs of $336,972,000. This program has enabled the company to place in service 676,200 additional telephones, an increase of 64.4 percent, to provide for a greatly expanded volume of long distance service.

Mother, Child Killed, Rest Of Two Families Are Still In Hospital

Funeral services were held in Newmarket on Tuesday for Mrs. Jack Fulcher, Toronto, and her 11-year old daughter, Brenda, who were killed at a level railway crossing accident at Gamebridge Saturday night. They were daughter and granddaughter of Mrs. Fred Hoare, Newmarket.

Mrs. Fulcher was raised and educated in Newmarket. The surviving relatives are George Hoare, Mrs. Ernest Bennett, Mrs. Jack Legood, Mrs. Les Paige, Mrs. Harold Brown and Mrs. William Gardner, brother and sisters, all of Newmarket. Another sister, Mrs. Loftus Buckley, lives in Halifax. Mrs. Allan LaPlante, Newmarket, predeceased Mrs. Fulcher in 1944.

The crash occurred at Gamebridge, near Beaverton at a level crossing on highway No. 12. In serious condition at Soldiers' Memorial hospital in Orillia are Mr. Jack Fulcher who has been suffering from concussion, back injuries and head and facial lacerations. Harold Finnegan and his wife who is a sister to Mrs. Fulcher are also injured and in hospital. Their 2 1/2-years-old son Michael, was seriously hurt.

Last Friday Allan Finnegan, 9, and the two Fulcher boys, Robert, 14, and Murray, 12, were taken to Orillia hospital after they were severely burned in a gasoline fire. They had been playing at the Fulcher's cottage on the Severn river and had poured gasoline from an outboard motor to light a fire. One of the boys lit the fire and the explosion burned the three severely.

The two families had gone from the cottage to Toronto where the Fulchers were moving into a new house and were returning to Orillia to see the boys Saturday evening when the accident occurred.

A diesel train struck the car at the crossing which meets the highway at an angle. It is believed that Mr. Fulcher who was driving the Finnegan car, turned away from the approaching train and skidded broadside onto the track. Except for Mrs. Fulcher and her daughter, all were thrown from the car.

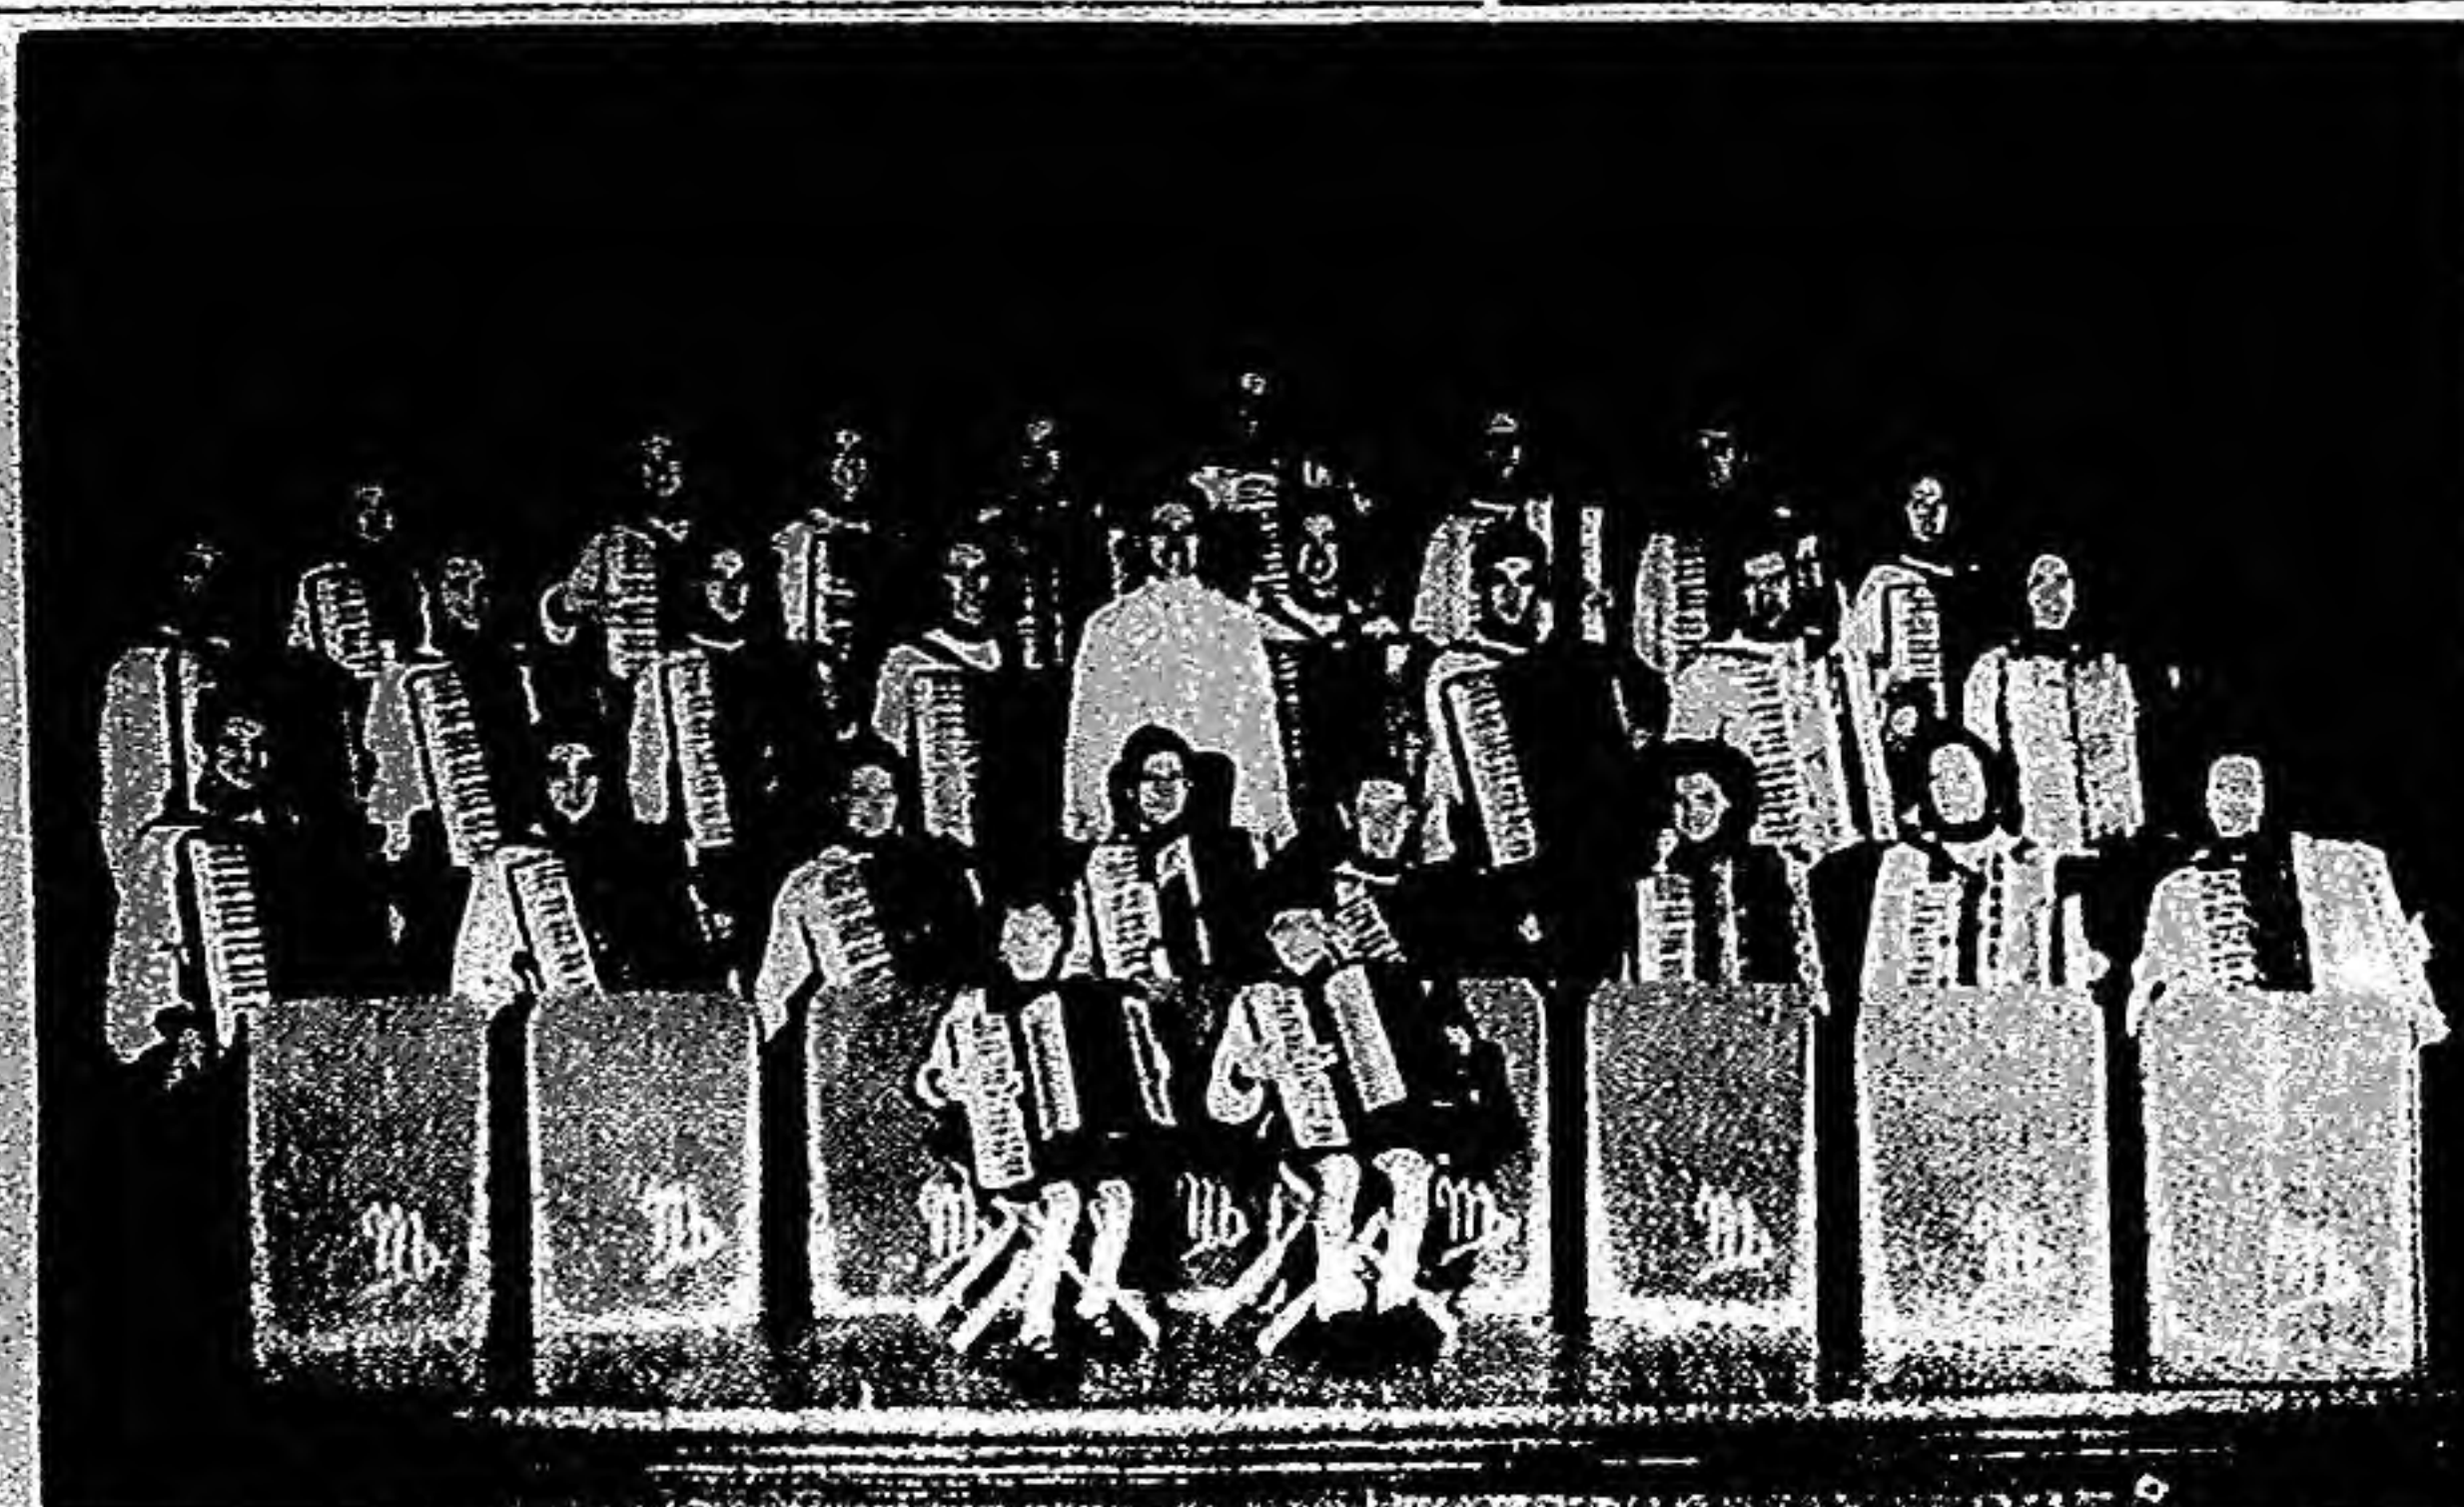

The two accidents, first when the boys were burned and the next night when the accident occurred, put a tragic end to a month's holiday for both families at the Severn river. As a result, every member of the family is in hospital except the two that are dead.

Interment for the mother and daughter was at Newmarket cemetery. Pallbearers were Ernest Bennett, Jack Legood, William Gardner, Allan LaPlante, Harold Brown, Sydney Simmons, all of Newmarket, and Robert Fulcher, Sr., Herb Fulcher, Norm Fulcher, Harry Hanson, Robert Brown and Herbert Brown, all of Toronto.

One of Miss Egan's hobbies at home is making rugs. Friends had told her that she should have entered one rug which she had made for King's Arms Guild but she was content to merely view the handicraft exhibits at the C.N.E. made by others.

The coliseum was important to her for she had read about the Royal Winter Fairs every year. She took particular interest in the flower show and the singing birds because at home she grows beautiful flowers herself and has bird houses posted about the gardens. She also saw the colorful bandstand and heard excellent band performances.

The Munding Accordion Band which has won prizes in both the Kiwanis Music Festival and the Canadian National Exhibition is being brought to Newmarket by the Lions Club. The band will give a concert in the Newmarket Memorial Arena on Friday evening, Sept. 14. Proceeds from the concert will go towards Lions Club service work in Newmarket and district. Reserved seats for the performance are on sale at Best's drug store.

"Phew!" and "Booh!"

This is a picture of things as they may be when suits in pre-gated with aluminum (the process has been patented) keep wearers at least 12° cooler in summer, warmer in winter.

There seems to be no end to the uses of aluminum. New ones pop up every day. Its ability to reflect heat is only one of a dozen reasons for alu- minium's soaring popularity. To keep up with the demand, we are at present busy building new dams, powerhouses and smelters for Canada and the free world. Aluminum Com- pany of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

The Story Of SHARON

By
ETHEL WILLSON TREWHELLA

This is the thirteenth installment of a continuing "Story of Sharon" from its founding to the present. The story was written after almost two years of research and will, we believe, be a major contribution to knowledge of the past. The remaining installments will follow weekly.

The following was written by David Willson as he felt age advancing and it was read at his funeral.

"Farewell, ye hills, and fields,
and plains,
To fruitful vales and shading
groves;
Farewell to great and honored
names,
Death on my trembling spirit moves.

"Ye heavenly lights that on me shine
To whom the kindred nations
bow,
No more your comforts can be mine,
I bid farewell and leave you now.

"Farewell to you my morning
suns,
It once was joy to see you rise,
But as the shade of death now comes
I see your light with weeping eyes.

"Farewell ye harvests of the field,
And flowers that in the valleys
grow,
Nor grazing flocks their pleasures yield -
My thoughts are in the grave below.

"Farewell ye little winding streams
That through the growing meadows run,
And flowery gardens clothed in green
No more to me your pleasures come.

"My feathered friends of morning
Whose homes the green and spreading bough,
I lent mine ear to hear your tongues,
It yields no joy to hear you
now.

"Farewell to you my walks
abroad,
The limbs that bore my frame
gave way,
A withering plant before my God,
I am to friends and foes this day.

"Farewell ye altars and my pen,
I'm drawing near the close of time,
Farewell to you fault-finding men,
I'm weak to write the sacred line.

"Farewell to you, my dearest friends,
That hath with me my sorrows
bore,
On God alone my soul depends
For you can strengthen me no more.

"Farewell to you, my little ones
In whom I have had great delight,
Where I had joy now sorrow
comes,
My mornings are like shades of night.

"Like plants that in the garden
grow
Set by your heavenly Father's hand,
No more shall I your blessings
know,
I'll cease to at the altar stand.

forthwith. The Meeting House was to be open to all interested as in the past. The trustees were Amos J. Hughes, William Graham and Amos Willson, - the heirs were John D. Willson and Hugh D. Willson.

In April of 1882 the Children of Peace trouble was settled at Osgoode Hall. The difficulty had been that the heirs were determined to continue in the manner of David Willson and to use the old patriarch's sermons. The trustees wished to become more orthodox and had invited other ministers to preach. In 1880 they held property valued at $15,000 and a benevolent fund of $5,000. In the settlement the property remained with the heirs and the costs were paid from the benevolent fund.

After the death of John D.
Willson the buildings remained empty for a time, used only occasionally or when a travelling evangelist held services. Then Elder Thomas Garbutt, hoping to organize a Christian church in Sharon, persuaded the Ontario
Christian Conference to purchase the property. In the County Registry Office it is on record that on the 2nd of September, 1890, Absalom Willson sold to the Christian Conference, "two parcels, the Meeting House and the Temple, for One Dollar."
Elder Garbutt's efforts were not successful, so on "July 1st, 1894, the Conference of the Christian church returned to Absalom Willson the same two parcels of Meeting House and Temple."

M. Ramsay Buys Property
For some time following the
disuse until Michael Ramsay purchased the entire property.
Unfortunately the Meeting
House was demolished. Mrs.
George Mainprize at Holt became very much disturbed over these historic buildings being lost to the community and contacted the York Pioneer Society.
Mrs. O. B. Sheppard, who with Mrs. Mainprize, had been born in Sharon, the daughter of Dr.
Montgomery, quickly realized what this loss would mean to the future.

The Children of Peace abhorred ministers, or priests, and in the early days they had celebrated marriages, so in 1867 the Society was incorporated by Act of Legislature which legalized all these marriages and protected the heirs to any property rights.
Heirs and Trustees Struggle

Along about 1880 trouble began when some of the younger members invited the Rev. Frizzel, a Presbyterian minister, to preach to them every Sunday.
It was unfortunate and a struggle ensued for forcible possession of the Meeting House, between the Heirs and the Trustees, which led to an action in a magistrate's court. A temporary peaceful settlement was obtained out of court and possession of the place of worship was returned to the trustees by the heirs

Pages from the Editor's Notebook

It is the evening of Labor Day and the thought of tomorrow, when we get back to the desk after a week of ease, is like the sword of Damocles. Holidays are over for another year; we had at least, the anticipation of another week to sustain us through the heat of mid-July and August. Now it's a race down the stretch to the year end.

But apart from a parlous lack of editorial opinion at the moment, the prospect is not entirely displeasing. Labor Day has become for us the end of a season. No matter what heat waves may descend in the next month, in our books fall is very definitely here and that's fine by us. It is the most delightful season of the year. The color of the trees, the soft hills in the September mist; none of this can be duplicated in any other season for inspiration to the imagination.

But even without the parade of the trades unionists at the Exhibition, and the rising toll of holiday deaths broadcast over the radio, we've seen or rather heard, the sign of the new season. Montreal opened against Hamilton last week and were soundly licked, and on Saturday, Ottawa got the boots from the Argos. Then today, Hamilton laid it on the Argos to complete the circle. We heard the first two over the radio but missed the third. Too bad. We've our money on the Tigers after hearing the way their line poured through Montreal and smothered Ratterman. Chari Holmes, erstwhile Bell man here and sports booster, is on the Tigers' executive and although we've not met the gentleman, Ab Hulse tells us that he expects the title this year.

Well, it's early to say, but when the runner-up of last year trounces the champion this year, twice too because they did it in an exhibition tilt a couple of weeks ago, it looks like there's reason for great expectations.

Filled in the holiday hours (those not spent on our back) with a bit of household carpentry and along with a couple of bruised fingers and a torn pair of pants where the saw slipped, we have conceived a great affection for fir.

We'd not particularly trusted this wood before. Always splintered where you least expected it and certainly didn't want it, and it has a dangerous tendency to ram splinters into your palms. But even so, it has a lovely grain so we tried it for doors on a couple of kitchen cabinets.

We found its character as we had remembered it but since the stuff was more or less pre-cut to the sizes we wanted, there wasn't too much aggravation. We'd always called for pine when we wanted to knock up a shelf. It's easy to work with but after the fir, we found it unsatisfactory. Too easy, we guess. No character. Fir is a likeable curmudgeon; pine is milk and toast. The first will work up the Old Adam in you every so often but at least it is never boring.

And when we've polished it up a bit and brought out the grain, we expect a masterpiece. Now, if only we had set those screws in a straight line...

We like the bit reported from the annual meeting of the Federation of Women Teachers' Association in Ontario. Mr. Walter Fisher, past president of the Lions International, said: "Boys and girls are confused these days. We're all confused in our thinking. We don't know where the world is going. Before our children have the faith needed to pull the world together again, you and I must have faith first."

It's appropriate not just to teachers but to every parent. Let our children hear us in the every day, "aint it a rook" conversation that passes between us and you can hardly blame them if they take the same view-point without the compensating wider horizon. Think back. The last time you talked over the state of the world, it was hardly with faith in the future was it? But that's the key. A belief in the rightness of our convictions. Without it, our battle's lost.

THURSDAY, THE SIXTH DAY OF SEPTEMBER, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-ONE

LINES ARE DRAWN

The leaders of Canada's two largest labor organizations, President Percy Bengough of the Trades and Labor Congress and President A. R. Mosher of the Canadian Congress of Labor, lashed at Ottawa in their Labor Day messages for not imposing price controls. In reply, the minister of labor, Hon. Milton Gregg, called upon labor to increase its productivity and for labor, management and consumer to generally exercise some discretion in wages, buying and selling.

The rise in the cost-of-living will be the hottest topic on the agenda when parliament re-assembles and these statements represent something of the battlelines which will be manned. Despite the increased demand for price controls, demands backed by the authority of substantial increases in the cost-of-living index, the government has shown no intention yet of backing away from its original claim that the time is simply not ripe for price controls.

The government's contention must be accepted for more than simply a stubborn insistence upon a policy which could be wrong. The same administration was responsible for what was generally regarded as the most efficient price control system of the war years, and with that experience, the government can speak with considerable authority.

But if Ottawa is standing firm against the demands of labor and consumer organizations, there is a possibility that it may have to relax at least some of its credit restrictions because of more potent requirements. The government has so far refused to consider the possibility as its firmness towards Windsor indicates, but the Financial Post last week revealed that house building showed a painful drop as a result of tightened credit. And that may breach credit control where Windsor lay-offs failed.

AGENTS OF DEFORESTATION

The Globe and Mail tees off against the hydro commission and the department of highways as agents of deforestation in a recent editorial. Says that paper: "The Ontario Hydro Commission and the Department of Highways are between them responsible for cutting down an immense number of trees every year. These agencies of deforestation are seldom given due recognition by conservationists, who are inclined to blame farmers and greedy sawmill operators for the loss of forest cover in Southern Ontario."

There are farmers in Whitchurch township who'll say a fervent "amen" to that. They'll remember the swamp, a prime source of water, which was drained by the hydro with no apparent concern for what their actions would do to the water table of the area. And then, in King township last year or the year before, there were those bush fires which were blamed on the hydro crews.

And it is not only the provincial department of highways which has succeeded in rooting up so many trees in the name of good roads. Most district road crews are also guilty. When grading hillsides or cuts, roots are left bare and the trees doomed. Another practice which seems to be taking a toll of trees is roadside spraying. All too frequently trees are sprayed high in their foliage and it can't be doing them much good.

The department of highways maintains two nurseries and in 1949, planted 91,593 trees so that at least some effort is being made to repair the damage of graders and 'dozers. But none of the townships, nor the county have nurseries and nothing is done to replace the trees destroyed in road building operations.

The Globe and Mail says that private individuals should be encouraged to plant roadside trees but as long as the process of widening and re-grading district roads and highways continues, there is not much likelihood of such efforts in this vicinity. All too often, those plantings are doomed.

LATEST IN MILK ISSUE

The milk producers in the district could be pardoned if they would up their participation in the Milk Control Board in disgust. From their point of view, they have received nothing but the dirty end of the stick in recent years. And this summer, the stick has been dirtier than ever.

And now to climax the whole sorry mess the producers were told last week that they would not be paid the ordered increase of 35 cents by the dairies, and the dairies served notice that they were appealing the board's award of the increase in Ontario courts. The dairies contend that they cannot be expected to pay an increase to the producers when they have been left in ignorance as to the retail price of milk. They say they can't operate at the loss such a payment will entail on the present retail price.

The producers, of course, have the same argument. The increases they asked for was less than half of what they contended was necessary. But with a philosophy of half a loaf, developed during years of unsatisfactory price negotiations, they signed the award. The dairies didn't and the appeal follows.

Now Premier Frost has warned the dairies that if they can't provide more efficient retailing methods for the benefit of the consumers then someone else would. He declined to say who the "someone else" was but the way the milk business is nowadays, the producer himself is as good a bet as any to fill the job.

But the premier's statement is also interesting because it is the first time, in our recollection, that someone in authority has put his finger on the real cause of all the difficulties of setting price. So far, it has been the producer who has been paying the cost of inefficient distribution.

And finally, the appeal from a decision of a government board which has no provision for appeals is going to have interesting repercussions. Presumably the producers will have as much right to appeal as the dairies if such an appeal is granted, and that will leave the Milk Control Board as nothing more than an arbitration board or a conciliation board acting only as a referee. The producers, with a long history of dissatisfaction, would be quick to appeal future unfavorable awards.

Another by-product, if such an appeal is granted, would be the end of political interference in the milk board. There's not a producer who isn't convinced that the board was packed by the appointment of Mayor McCallum, and the mayor's subsequent pronouncements did nothing to change the belief that he was on the board only to keep the price of milk down, not help set a fair price to all parties.

LESSONS OF NATURE

A farmer friend of ours says that the yield from his fields was not as high as last year. He blames it on the excess moisture in the ground in the early part of the year. Winter wheat wasn't its best either. The constant freezing and thawing in the spring, and one wild rain when the frost was not out of the ground, washed out a lot of the grain.

So while he doesn't expect to starve he does think that the forecasts earlier in the year of "best crop years" and "record yields" sound a little foolish in the light of August harvests. The moral is obvious. In its own way, it is a repeat of the federal government's attempt to forecast the wheat crop with subsequent losses to western farmers for which the payment of $65 million only partially compensated them.

With all our success at ordering our environment to suit our convenience, we still haven't found a way to demand of nature an orderly cycle of rain and sun, or be assured that all insect pests are under control. There was very little Hessian fly in the county last year. This year, it had infested as much as 20 percent of some fields. And thus it goes. Man proposes but nature disposes and there is nothing we can do about it.

And the same lesson is offered with respect to those zealots who, with the best of intentions, would organize and plan our lives for us. There are circumstances which, even the most farseeing of our planners, cannot anticipate. But they persist, regardless of human nature in the realm of public welfare; regardless of the laws of supply and demand in the realm of economics; regardless of individual aspiration in the realm of education.

Surely, we must progress to exist, but let us progress not by attempting an uniformity of personality and purpose, but by the encouragement, of the individual spirit. Let us be done with masses and statistics. Let us think in terms of the individual and respect the infinite variety of human nature as a God-given right, not as a nuisance to be exercised by coercion.

EDITORIAL NOTE

We wonder if present construction plans in Newmarket include the paving of the lanes between Main and Cedar Sts. Both lanes are heavily used now that the arena is becoming an all-year centre of entertainment and neither offers, in its present state, safe walking. It would end a hazard if the lanes were paved.

Office Cat Reports Catnips By Ginger

William Rudolph Cursed, the tycoon publisher of the Cuttin Corners Clarion-Blast, died last week.

In the words of my friend, Slim Bliggins: "He was of the steam roller variety, one of those what made money out of newspapers. He was the biggest tycoon that ever was in the Cuttin Corners newspaper world. (Note: the Cuttin Corners newspaper world consisted of the Clarion-Blast and the Advertiser in the early days). Slim worked as a sweeper in the Clarion-Blast press room when he was 16 and probably knew Cursed longer than anyone. For this reason, it is with pleasure that we devote most of this column to Mr. Bliggins' impressions and portrayal of the life of William Rudolph Cursed.

"Cursed made his fortune in the early twenties after he broke his competitor, the Corners Advertiser," says Slim. Cursed sunk a cool 113 dollars in a campaign against the bottlin' works because it used the seed of the trillium (provincial flower) in the distillin' processes. Cursed conducted the biggest campaign and that finished the Advertiser which lost its distillery backing through its failure to outblast the Blast.

"He was the first to introduce yaller journalism into the Cuttin Corners newspaper world during his battle against the Advertiser. Yaller journalism of course was got from them New York papers which ran comics on yaller paper. Cursed tried to copy them. "Since most folks in Cuttin Corners couldn't read so good, them three letter words in big black letters four inches high was easier for 'em to read and they loved the Clarion-Blast's sensashunalism.

"Cursed sensashunalized the suicide of the waterworks foreman over the frog incident in the reservoir and people lapped it up. "Every time a dog got poisoned, the Clarion-Blast would rouse peoples' 'motions up by puttin' in a headline like 'Dog Murdered in Cold Blood by Hideous Ruthless Poisoner—Seek Fiend'. He supported the weight of Mrs. Ella Cuddles for council on a prevention of cruelty ticket.

"At one time Cursed wanted to be a M.P. so he ran. He issued free bottles of Fuzzy Water on election day and was beat and he lost his bond. After that he hated politicians and in his paper, conducted warfare against every candidate that stood thereafter. In one general election he ran a story with a headline, 'Cold Virus Being Carried To Many District Babies—Blame Politicians'.

"Then he amassed fortune upon fortune by investin' in real estate. He bought the Astoria Hotel and installed in-door conveniences which revolutionized the Corners. He bought all the pool rooms and spent large sums on lecture stations. At one point he owned three quarters of Cuttin Corners. His lawyer said that by 1937 he had amassed a $10,000 fortune, the biggest in the Corners.

"Yep, William Rudolph Cursed was a typhoon all right. He made money like mad. Some says that he used to starve his workers. Others says that he paid 'em tremendous salaries and worked them to death in two years although I don't remember anyone dyin' on the Clarion-Blast.

"It was the biggest funeral Cuttin Corners ever had. All of Cursed's nephews 'was' pall-bearers. The remains was toled in a cast iron casket with bronze rivets and they put it into one of them marble mausoleums which he had built ten years ago. Above the doorway was the inscription in latin: Magnus Cursed.

"Yep, as I always said, there'll never be another typhoon like William Rudolph Cursed. He was so jug-headed he couldn't help but make money."

Well, of course, you will see most of them back at it next year. It is just a proof of our statement that these men like to do it, that no matter what the fairs will do to discourage them, they will be back for more in another year, to lead around that animal they have seen grow up from a wet little bundle to a sleek young promise: to lead him around the ring and to get that ribbon, if that is the way it is to be to lead him in a truck and travel many a mile and start over again.

You know, we farmers don't like unions as a rule. Sometimes we think they are too ruthless and too grabbing and too often their demands, or rather their material success, put us in a bad position. But let us not forget that they did succeed in improving their material standards. And they did get conditions improved in the plants and factories which were very similar to what the average farmer or showman is up against today. And they did learn to stick together to do it. We wonder if there is a moral somewhere in this. After all, they say what's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander. At the present it is just gravy for the Fair Board.

OVERTURE TO WILLIAM TELL

Oak Ridges News

MRS. LAURA ROLLING, CORRESPONDENT, PHONE KING 5

When the new Lake Wilcox school opens this month the teaching staff will be ready to hold classes in the four-room building. All have first class certificates. They are Mrs. Gladys Cross of Richmond Hill, with music and physical training qualifications; principal, Miss Beatrice Thistlethwaite, Flesherton, also holding an auxiliary qualification; Mrs. Charles Crawford of Lake Wilcox, and Mr. Ralph Finlayson of North Toronto, a graduate this year of Toronto Normal School.

The building is well under way with contractor Dan Cook clearing the way to completion as quickly as possible. The cement floor was poured this week and plumbing is being installed by R. J. Irwin, contractor from Newmarket.

Grandmother In Scottish Dances
She will dance at your wedding, will Mrs. Wm. Burns, Bond Ave., a grandmother who steps the "Flowers of Edinburgh", the Highland Fling and Scottish reels and does a pretty square dance. With her husband, Mrs. Burns was one of about 30 to attend a corn and weiner roast at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Wm. Glass of Malton.

Held on the lawn last Saturday night, lit by floodlights and fire-light logs, there was a dance platform to take care of the square dances, called off by Reg Burns, a son from Elgin Mills, William Espey, Elgin Mills, played the violin and radio music filled the in-betweeners. It was a general get-together for the families and included Norman Burns, wife and family, Mr. and Mrs. Espey, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilbur, Miss Ruth Scott of Aurora, the Si Parkers, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Glass, Toronto. Mrs. Burns danced her favorite Edinburgh number for the gathering. She has danced since she was 10 years old. Visitors at the Burns home on Bond Ave., have been Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burns of King for Sunday, Mrs. Wm. West, Toronto, who is Mrs. Burns' mother, and 81-year-old Mrs. S. Parker. Mrs. West will spend several days with her daughter.

Attend Fall Fair
Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ash motored to Port Perry fall fair on Labor

Day accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hare, Temperanceville. They found the event interesting, with harness racing, a good showing of fruits and vegetables, displays of handicrafts and patchwork quilts, one made by an 81-year-old lady.

First In Lead Line Class
Riders from Oak Ridges Junior Riding Club are enjoying the competition at the C.N.E. show. Last year, with the exception of their trainer, Marilyn Hawman, they were quite inexperienced compared with other entrants. Last Friday and Saturday nights, three contested with horses owned by Gordon Ratz of Tavistock. In a lead line class for horses, the sons and daughters of the same horse, and three years old or under, Oak Ridges placed first. Katherine Gunn led Maple Lady, a four-year-old Ratz horse; Marilyn Hawman, Starlight, three years and Don Rennie, Star Time, two years. In this class there were about 10 groups of three horses each.

In another class for horses four years and under, Star Light, ridden by Marilyn Hawman placed second; Brilliant Star, ridden by Don Rennie, third and Maple Lady, ridden by Katherine Gunn, sixth, in a class of about 25 horses. Miss Hawman and others of the club are competing this week as well. Arcus, Taffy, Sunny Jim, Teddy and Cream Puff, local horses, are in the show.

Bride of Saturday to Teach
Mr. Charles Crawford, Lake Wilcox, and Miss Cora Sedore of Sutton were married on Saturday, Sept. 1. A community shower is being held this evening (Thursday) in Lake Wilcox Community Hall for the couple. When the Lake Wilcox school opens this month, Mrs. Crawford will be one of the teachers. Holding a first class professional teaching certificate with three years' experience, the trustee board of S.S. 13 is fortunate to secure her services. It is hoped the newly married couple will find living quarters at the lake. Charlie is the popular "ice-man" for the district.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mitchell on Saturday, Sept. 1. The couple have two girls now.

What a Day in Ireland
Everything happened to Mrs. Sue Fox and her sister, Miss Lily Brown of Nottingham, Eng., when they spent three hours in Ireland a while ago. On vacation to the Isle of Man the sisters boarded ship for a few hours in the land of the blarney stone.

When they landed, Aunt Lily lost the heel of her shoe. With her little less than 200 lb. weight, that wasn't funny. Scrambling around to find a shoemaker, she left her purse, with a goodly sum of money and travel fares in a store. It has disappeared for good. Upset with this bad luck, Mrs. Fox keeled over in the store and put her head through the window. Back on board ship Aunt Lily was sea-sick all the way. And the shoe, well, the ship's carpenter fastened the heel back on. Mrs. Fox is Sue Mosley's mother, and Miss Brown is her aunt. The story was written to Mrs. Mosley in Aunt Lily's special version.

Oak Ridges Lions Club has cancelled a corn roast scheduled for Sept. 7, at the school grounds. Mr. Stanley Rule, who was in charge of the night, said the Toronto exhibition now in progress and the fact that holidays are not over for many people prompted the cancellation.

An interesting feature of the musical part of Oak Ridges Home and School open meeting on Monday evening, Sept. 10, will be the appearance of Bernard Boyd, 15, tap dancer and vocalist, who will be accompanied at the piano by his mother, Mrs. Percy Boyd of Toronto. Bernard is a nephew of Norman Boyd of Oak Ridges. Miss Shirley Hare of Temperanceville will sing. Mrs. P. A. McClellan, president of the York Home and School Council, is the guest speaker.

Rev. A. C. Herbert, Anglican rector of Alliston, will preach at St. John's church, Oak Ridges (Yonge St. at Jefferson) on Sunday, Sept. 9, at 11.15 a.m.

Transportation to Church
Langdon's bus service, picking up children or passengers for St. John's Anglican church, Oak Ridges, will re-commence its Sunday morning runs around Lake Wilcox next Sunday, Sept. 9, when Sunday school will reopen for the fall and winter session. Leaving C.F.R.B. sideroad at Yonge St. at approximately 10.55 a.m., the bus proceeds round the lake via the North Road, returning to Yonge St. via the south Lake Wilcox Road, thence south to the church just below Bond Lake. The bus stops enroute for anyone caring to signal it and regular stops are made at Hart's store and the post office. A return trip is made after church and Sunday school. It should be noted that church and Sunday school services are both held at the same hours, 11.15 a.m.

Canada's 700,000 square miles of forest lands capable of producing continuous crops are classified as economically, financially and geographically accessible for forest operations.

OBITUARY

MARVIN W. BARKER

On Sunday, Aug. 26, one more long time resident of Sharon, Marvin Wilmet Barker, passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Viola Jones, in Thistleton, as the result of a second stroke. Service was held on Tuesday, Aug. 28, at the Scott Funeral Chapel in Woodbridge. Mr. John Holland officiated.

Wilmet Barker, the second son of Robert and Martha (Haines) Barker, was born September 8, 1863, at Siloam, and as a boy removed with his parents to Sharon. On December 11, 1889, he married Susan Willson, daughter of Seth Willson of Pickering, and who predeceased him December 29, 1933. His family consisted of two daughters, Gladys, who died in April, 1920, and Viola, Mrs. Jones. Two sisters survive him, Mrs. Ada Horner of Regina, Miss Mercy of Newmarket and a brother, Edward, also of Newmarket. There are four grandchildren.

Wilmet Barker was a descendant of an early pioneer family and for many years occupied the farm just below the village of Sharon which had belonged to his great grandfather, Samuel Haines. He was interested in public affairs of the district, was secretary-treasurer of the local school board and a life member of the York Pioneer Historical Society. He was one of the trustees in the sale of the Temple and as president of the Social and Athletic Club of Sharon had given untiring service to aid the Pioneers to acquire and establish their Park.

Interment took place in the family plot at Newmarket cemetery.

SCHOOL DAYS

longed almost exclusively to the home. When he returns at noon he will bring with him a new partner, one who will share his parents' interest in him. One who will, when given the opportunity, help him with special problems. For now, the teacher will be a very important person in his new world.

The stillness is shattered. Youngsters descend on the stores for their school supplies. The kitchen door bursts open. "Mom, got any cookies? and milk?" Teacher says we have to have six work books and two pencils and we're going to learn to write this year. Will I be able to use your pen?

ENGAGEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. George Stanley Smith, Newmarket, announce the engagement of their daughter, Gwendeth Jean, to Mr. Stanley Alvin Watts, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Watts, Toronto. The marriage will take place on Saturday, Sept. 29, at 3 o'clock in Trinity United church, Newmarket.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Spezzali, R. R. 2, Newmarket, announce the engagement of their only daughter, Rose Catherine, to Mr. Reginald Anthony Bolender, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Bolender, Holland Landing, the wedding will take place at the bride's home September 29, 1951.

Medical statistics show 600,000 Canadians suffer from arthritis or rheumatism.

Recent District Weddings

After their early summer wedding, Mr. Jack R. Sproston, R.C.N., and his bride the former Constance Blakely, are pictured with their attendants. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Blakely, Cornwall and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Sproston Newmarket. Miss Shirley MacArthur was bridesmaid, and Jill Blakely, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. Best man was Francis Sowdall, R.C.N., and the ushers were Messrs Eric Shaver and Barry Blakely.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Adams, Newmarket are pictured following their recent wedding with their attendants, Mr. Gene Broughton, Mr. Raymond Sherrard, Mrs. E. W. Broughton, Miss Elsie Wostyn, Miss Florence Egan and Heather Sanderson, flowergirl. The bride is the former Josephine Wostyn, daughter of Mr and Mrs K. Wostyn, Aurora.

NIGHT-POCKLER

A wedding of interest took place in Ringwood Christian church on September 1 when Helen Isobel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fockler, Ringwood, became the bride of Mr. Norman William Nigh, son of Mrs. Leo Nidery and the late William Nigh of Aurora. Rev. Gibson Brown officiated at the double ring ceremony, and the church was decorated with gladioli, asters, and other summer flowers. Mr. Roy Grove played the wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Harvey Preston who sang "O Perfect Love" and "I'll Walk Beside You".

The bride chose French illusion lace and white nylon net over taffeta for her wedding gown. The strapless, torso-length fitted bodice was topped with a jacket featuring a mandarin collar and long, tight sleeves. The bouffant skirt flaring from the hip line in crinoline effect fell into a long graceful train. A lace cap outlined with pearls held her fingertip veil of tulle illusion, bordered with French lace. She carried a cascade of Johanna Hill roses centred with calla lilies.

Escorted up the aisle by her father, she was attended by her sister, Miss Hazel Fockler as maid of honor, Mrs. Douglas Nigh, and Mrs. Bert Clarkson, bridesmaids, and little Donna May Hisey, flower girl. The maid of honor and bridesmaids were gownned identically, in varying pastel shades of orchid, lime green, and buttercup yellow nylon lace and net over taffeta underdresses. Jackets with cap sleeves and Peter Pan collars topped the fitted bodices. They wore matching mittens, and halos trimmed with lily-of-the-valley and carried baskets of roses and larkspur to tone with their gowns. The flower girl was frocked in pink nylon sheer over taffeta, with bonnet and mittens to match, and she also carried a basket of flowers. Mr. Douglas Nigh was his brother's groomsmen, Mr. Clarence Fockler and Mr. John Staley the ushers.

The bride's mother received the guests wearing open blue crepe and lace with navy accessories and corsage of pink roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother in royal blue crepe, with navy accessories and corsage of red roses. The bride wore a grey English gabardine suit, with pink accessories and Kolinsky furs for her trip to Kingston and the Thousand Islands. She also wore a rhinestone necklace, gift of the groom. On their return the newlyweds will live in Stouffville.

Guests attended from Brantford, Toronto, Aurora, Peterboro, Shelbourne and Newmarket. The bride presented her bouquet to her great aunt, 94-year-old Mrs. Martin Fockler of Ringwood.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE ION

The Press and Radio Day luncheon at the C.N.E. is usually a well-attended affair and this year's was no exception. Present were 289 women, all connected with the field of publicity.

We were entertained in the private reception and dining rooms of the Women's building as the guests of the directors of the exhibition and Kate Aitken, acting in her capacity as women's director for the C.N.E., officiated at the proceedings.

As we arrived our names were recorded by one of Mrs. Aitken's team of stenographers. Before we had finished the inevitable C.N.E. luncheon of assorted fruit and vegetable juices, cold plate, vanilla ice cream with butterscotch sauce and coffee mimeographed lists of the guests' names were distributed to everyone present.

Many of the guests were from Toronto or like myself, from the small towns of Ontario. There were newspaper girls from Niagara Falls, Oshawa, Owen Sound. There were representatives from the radio stations in Hamilton, Barrie, Kitchener. Free lancers, publicity girls from trade magazines and publishing firms helped to make the luncheon hour very pleasant.

Besides the press and radio women from Ontario there were many from other provinces. They came from St. John's, Newfoundland, Edmonton, Alberta, Edmundston, N. B. and other Canadian cities. But it was to a Japanese reporter, Yoshiko Yamamoto, Tokyo, that the silver tray was presented as the guest farthest from home.

Mrs. R. C. Berkinshaw, wife of the president of the C.N.E., who had welcomed us to the luncheon, presented Miss Yamamoto with the tray. Miss Yamamoto is a member of the staff of "The Women's Friend" in Tokyo and is studying at the Princeton School of Religion. She was in Toronto as the guest of the Women's Missionary society of the United church of Canada.

Other lucky guests received pairs of tickets to the grandstand show, large boxes of chocolates, nylons and other prizes. As a friend said recently, "It's a good thing that there are two kinds of luck or you'd never have any."

My bad luck continued to follow me even at the luncheon.

The chocolates went to newspaper girls with children. Briefly we thought that our sweet tooth was to be satisfied, but there were ten boxes of chocolates to be distributed. We were the eleventh newspaper mama.

In announcing the qualifications for that particular group of prizes, Kate Aitken said, "Chocolates go to newspaper girls with children... legitimate, that is." There was a long silence and then Kate affixed the qualifying adjective to the correct subject—newspaper gals, not the children.

Oh, the luncheon was not a dull affair by any means. During the course of the meal, a quarter of a million dollars worth of fur coats were modelled before our envious eyes. We were amazed to see racoon sheared and looking like a beaver's sister. The hats were all hand-made models and the other accessories were in keeping with the fabulous furs.

Mrs. Catherine Marston, owner and editor of "The Elora Express" was the principal speaker. Mrs. Marston took over the operation of this weekly newspaper upon the death of her husband who had been a turkey breeder. "The Elora Express" has over the past five years been a consistent winner of awards from the Canadian Weekly Newspaper association.

Speaking of the Canadian weekly, Mrs. Marston said, "They don't pay they're an institution." She went on to explain that it was job printing which kept most weeklies out of the red, a task she has successfully managed for the past few years. "The Elora Express" judged for several consecutive years as the best weekly paper in Canada of its size has given Mrs. Marston the opportunity to fulfill a long felt desire to write, as well as providing her children with an education.

Mrs. Marston reminded us that the weekly paper, taking all that's best in the community, and making it news, reflects the Canadian home. She urged us to remember the importance of the home in building freedom.

Markham Family Put Hub On Archery Map

Newmarket Archery Club, put the Hub of North York on the map in the Canadian National Exhibition archery contests. The Markham family in particular gathered up a flock of prizes.
 Frances Markham was the outstanding junior bow and arrow shot at the C.N.E. Frances took first place in all events which included a double American round, a double Canadian round, flight shoot, clout shoot and field shoot. Frances broke the existing Canadian record for Canadian round shooting.
 Pat Markham won the Canadian Field Archery championship. And Harry Markham took third place in the C.N.E. broadhead shoot. Edna Markham took the target prize for high score in her group.
 Ten members of the Newmarket archers attended the various C.N.E. matches, competing against 100 bow and arrow shots from the U.S.A. and as far west as Edmonton.
 Jean Wheeler and Pat Markham attended the National Field Archery Shoot at Watkins Glen, New York. Jean won third place in the hunter's round, archery class. Pat Markham won first place in broadhead round, second place in hunter's round and compiled second highest aggregate tally in the archer's class.
 The local bow and arrow enthusiasts are now looking ahead to their second annual deer hunt. A larger entry list from all district clubs and the U.S.A. is expected.

Zephyr Makes Finals P.O., Keswick Still At It

It's been mentioned that Pine Orchard and Keswick are interesting in lifting the Stan Cook mug and the Lake Simcoe Softball League title.
 If they are, it means they have to lick Ches. Lunney's Zephyr "Blues" to get it. Main event of the past week's hopped up semis is that Zephyr "Blues" gave Hope the business Tuesday 16-1. That meant win two for the Blues and a stride into the finals.
 The Blues romped in with an explosive 14-hit assault against Hope's southpaw slinger, Donn Glover. Glover in turn could have sued his mates for non support as the scorekeeper broke off counting Hope bobbles when he reached the even dozen mark.
 It wasn't a bad ball game until the fourth. The Blues had only a 3-1 edge to this point. Then the Blues emerged with a six-run explosion in the fifth. Clark Arnold gave the big fram a start with a single, Carl Meyers kept it booming with a double and Ken Pickering put the finishing touches with a triple. Again in the sixth, Blues' power hitting made a shambles of Hope with a five-run spurt and finished up with two in the seventh with nary a sign of a hit to rnu away with the decision.

Ron Kester, Blues' side-wheeler, had razor edge control and had command with his five-hitter. Kester capped his solid pitching with three hits to pace the Blues. His main props in the hit department were Carl Meyers, Stan. Lunney, Harry Hawse and Ken Pickering with apair of well tagged efforts per man. Zephyr's outfielding trio of Clark Arnold and Don Hewlett put away seven Hope lofts in fine style, left-fielder Hewlett setting the prime example with four wel handled chances.

Doug Eves was Hope's hit leader with two of their five hits. Doug poled a Kester Sunday pitch on the nose for a homer to break the goose-egg and whacked a double. Al Wilson doubled, Cliff Ward and Don Glover singled to complete the Hope hit picture. "Bun" Cook ran miles to haul down Harry Hawse's drive in center, and Doug Eves picked off an over-the-shoulder hoist at short for the final out, in the seventh.

Both teams went into a stalling gymnastics that left the bulk of the sunshine soakers on the side-lines disgusted.
 In the other bracket of the semi-finals, which has now stretched to five games—one tied, one darkness erased — Murray

Bradford's hit star was Marg. Wilson with three. Ann Mulder collected two, one a double, Edith Dow and Lillian Marchant and Audrey Fuller shared the winning pitching job. Edith Dow, making a first appearance on the Bradford mound, had control trouble and her mates allowed her support to wither and wilt.

Schomberg: Marian Dove, Gladys Edwards, Marilyn Mampbell, Ann Sheardown, Lorna Brown, Marie Marchant, Audrey Fuller, Peggy Ellison, Verna Hamilton, Marie Edwards, Golda Aitchison.
 Bradford: Lil McLaughlin, Grace McDonald, Josephine Ziminski, Marg. Wilson, Ann Mulder, Edith Dow, Mary Kavochuk, Shirley Fallis, Helen Wrabco, Olga Malko.

Owls and Nighthawks: Those chappies in the Lake Simcoe Softball loop added a new twist to the late summer rows. Latest and possibly most startling innovation is moonlight softball.

Your scribbler saw it happen Tuesday in the Pine Orchard-Keswick scrap. It was a successful experiment too for the Pine Orchard owls. We felt sheepish going back out there the next day cross-cut saw in hand to nip off the end of the bench. How were we to know we finished the last two innings on the bench and not the score-book. It was that dark we couldn't see a thing. We have always wondered if the players could really see the apple after the moon got that high over the cowshed.

For the benefit of our fireside filberts here's our findings: first interviewee was Harry Brammer, Pine Orchard's converted outfield stonper. "Could you see the ball?" "Well um um no yes maybe anyhoo it was a nice night to study the night life of the owl."
 Next caller, Claude Pollock, Keswick's outer-pasture clipper. Claude happened to pop up a little blooper in the gathering gloom. "Me see it? Nah. I just listened for the whistle and swung. Can't figure yet whether I hit a Tidman pitch or the catcher's return."

After dark, softball minus flood-lights should be strictly taboo—somebody will get conked and then after the damage is done, remedial measures will be taken. The answer of course is to get rolling earlier, 6.45 at the latest. Upshoot of the after dark finish is that Keswick have filed a protest and the Board of Governors will have another hassle to straighten out.

Tops Past Performances
 This year's run to the wire in the softball circuits tops all past performances. Everywhere you turn there're protests cropping up. Bill Stanyer, Keswick's playing coach, has been ruled ineligible. After playing most of the season, Bill was given his exit papers during the mad play-off scramble. Personally, we don't hold with this protesting so late in the campaign. Neither does the O.S.S.A. Here's what they have to say about it: "Clubs or players who knowingly play against ineligible players and who wilfully conceal this knowledge until it shall suit their convenience to use it in any protest which may arise shall then be considered equally guilty with the offending club or players and shall be dealt with accordingly." Does that put Pine Orchard and Keswick out? If so, then Zephyr or Hope could be the champions.

Makes a few chaps begin to wonder if anybody plays the game for the sport of it anymore. These protests and counter-protests flying hither and yon are certainly causing the executive a good many headaches and from what your observer has seen, this year's edition headed by Ross Chapman is about the fairest body of men it would be possible to secure.

The other matter that draws our ire this week concerns Ronnie Rowe, recently appointed coach of Sutton ladies softball crew. Coach Rowe was away offside in his language in discussing a call with base-umpire Don Brice in Sutton-Newmarket junior ladies play-off at Queensville. There's little or no place around a ball field for such tantrums, especially if the language is unprintable and the chap bellers like a hog caller. Umpire Brice rightfully thumbed him off the field and out of the game. This flagrant offense should draw a stiff reprimand from the league executive if not an outright suspension. Incidentally, that Newmarket - Sutton junior ladies set is developing into a merry-go-round as game after game dies from darkness.

Cuff Notes
 Hear tell that Bob Peters has turned in his coach's ticket at Hope. Tom Dickson, Aurora's popular recreation director, leaves our midst shortly for Aylmer. The genial Thomas is bound to be missed around the Aurora sport scene. And it's congrats to our side-kick, Aurora sports editor Abner Hulse. Ab is now "the boss" of all the Legion branches in Ontario. Nice work sir, nice work.
 Score-board went up at the Fair Grounds over the Labor Day weekend. Donor was Ted Robinson, ye Marigold Shoppe prop. Ted used to serve up a fancy brand of baseball pitching in his hey-day, you'll recall.
 Lights, lights. When do we get 'em? Probably a couple of weeks. First lights were put up on Labor Day. Harold LaPlante did the actual installation. Bell Telephone Co. employees headed by Harold, and our volunteer work crew headed by Eddie Gibson and Geo. Watt, have done a marvellous job.
 Rink Manager Stan Smith reports Spits will hold their organization meeting next Wednesday night in the rink. Be there and have your say. Otherwise, in February don't come along and

AURORA TOWN FINALS

The Aurora Town League finals will open tonight (Thursday) at seven o'clock at the Park. It will be Andy Closs's Merchants backing Mick Sutton's Ditch Diggers for the title. The league crown is to be settled on a best three out of five series basis. All indications point to a terrific battle before a final winner emerges.

Aurora-Newmarket Team No Match For Leaside

Leaside "Rumble Motors", one of the big city's better bantam sides, downed a combined Newmarket-Aurora team 7-0 in an exhibition baseball game in Aurora Town Park Monday evening. Crawford Dales fast batted the Combines to death, striking out an average of two per frame. Wayne Robinson took the mound for the Combines and was nicked for three runs in the first as the visitors never gave a second glance backward.

Newmarket - Aurora: C. McGuire, W. Robinson, E. Lothian, B. Forhan, J. Mills, G. Davis, D. Thoms, A. McKnight, B. Wilson, G. Edwards, J. Saunders, B. Lovelless.

Joan Peppiatt, K. Davis Win Mixed Doubles

Joan Peppiatt and Keith Davis won the Newmarket Tennis Club's mixed doubles invitation tournament over the Labor Day holiday. The tournament was conducted on a round-robin basis with ten teams from Mount Albert, Richmond Hill, Aurora and Newmarket entered.

In the final match Joan Peppiatt and Keith Davis defeated Marg Davis and Chas. Lee, 6-3, 6-8, 6-1. The winners accumulated a 54 game total, Marg Davis and Chas. Lee 47. Third place went to Alverna Smith and Harry Hill with 46, fourth place was captured by Joyce Bothwell and Frank Wims with 44.

In the North York Tennis League Aurora will be visitors here tomorrow evening for a semi-final tie-breaker with Newmarket forces. The victor will meet Richmond Hill for the championship.

Other item of interest on the local tennis scene is the announcement that play for the Newmarket Tennis Club's men's and ladies' single titles will be conducted on Monday and Tuesday of next week.

'Berg Wins Peel-York Takes Series in Three

Schomberg are Peel-York Softball League title holders. They downed Woodbridge 6-2 last week to win the series three games to one.

Ken Ellison tamed the Woodbridge clouters on five scratch hits. He received strong hit support from Mickey McCabe, "Pee-Wee" Aitchison and Murray Edwards.

The Hastings-Cabell platoon set up the kill of Woodbridge by breaking up a 2-2 tie with a three-run crop in the fourth. Murray Edwards homered, Mickey McCabe, making one of his few starts in the Schomberg outfield, cooked up 890 batting average going four for five. "Pee-Wee" Aitchison hit three for five.

Jack Kitchener on the Woodbridge mound was tabbed with the loss. The Peel-York cup is now safely set up in the Schomberg show window and its congratulations to the Bergers one and all including club president Bill Brendon, sec'y-treas. Elgin Hastings, coach Albert Stephenson; asst. coach Art Walker and manager Alb. "Pike" Cabell.

Schomberg: Doug Marchant, K. Ellison, W. Thompson, Don Marchant, D. Brown, M. Edwards, D. Aitchison, D. Rainey, W. Brendon, B. McCabe, M. McCabe.

Pin Ups' Win Over Sutton Protested

If the score-book is followed, Newmarket "Pin-ups" will meet Mount Albert for the Lake Simcoe Junior Ladies Softball League title. Tuesday evening, Newmarket pounded Sutton into submission 11-7 at Queensville. That win gave the Pin-ups the series two games to one.

Sutton, however, has filed a protest on the eligibility of two Pin-up regulars, Jeanne MacDonald and Barbara Watt. Offshoot is a league executive meeting in Keswick tonight to settle the issue and a hopped up session is anticipated.

In Tuesday's game, the Pin-ups left little doubt of their superiority. They loosed a torrent of base-hits to corral an early six-run edge. Jeanne MacDonald's two-on homer and Isobel Rogers' two-run plating single provided the main blows.

The Pin-ups furthered their cause with three insurance runs in the second to gather in a 9-0 edge and wrapped it up safely with two in the fourth.

Sutton's scoring punch developed late. They bunched three hits, the only time they were able to do this, off Jeanne MacDonald's seven-hit pitching—plus a walk and an error for four runs in the fourth.

The Pin-ups tabulated 14 hits. Glenna Woodhouse was the most effective swinger with three. Joan Robinson, Barbara Shropshire, Jeanne MacDonald and Barbara A. Watt counted two each in three official trips to the plate.

Mary Climpson with the only two-hitter on Sutton side.

Pine Orchard, Zephyr In Simcoe Finals

North-South battle looms for the Lake Simcoe Softball League crown. It will be Pine Orchard and Zephyr in the final. Behind steady chucking from Ted Tidman and timely hit support furnished by his mates, Pine Orchard put an end to Keswick Wednesday 11-3.

Tidman had a shut-out until Keswick swingers came out of the doldrums in the final frame for three runs. "Hub" Preston's three-run triple was crunching blow for Pine Orchard.

Flexy Ross Chapman came up with the following schedule of games for the finals. Series goes three out of five. All games must start at 6:30 p.m.

Sept. 7, Zephyr at Pine Orchard Sept. 10, Pine Orchard at Zephyr; Sept. 12, Zephyr at Pine Orchard; Sept. 14, Pine Orchard at Zephyr; Sept. 17, Zephyr at Pine Orchard.

Optimist Bantams Lose To Leaside 4-0

Newmarket Optimist bantams, idle throughout most of the summer from lack of local opposition, took Leaside "Lions" on in an exhibition baseball tilt at the fair grounds Saturday afternoon. The invaders, one of the city's and suburbs better minor baseball crews, shut-out the locals 4-0 in a fast, well played game. Jim Taylor, visitors' pitching ace, relied mostly on fogging 'em through to keep his shut-out intact.

The Optimists came close to cracking it with a last ditch eighth innings rally that loaded the bases with two out but the visiting hurler was equal to the occasion by getting Earl Lothian to nibble on a high pitch to silence the budding rally.

Jackie Mills worked the Optimists' rubber shift and was in good form setting the visitors down on six hits and a little hit support from his mates might have scraped through for a win. Newmarket collected only two hits from Donnie McKnight and Billie Forhan.

Lawn Bowlers Active As Season Nears End

It's been an active season for the lawn bowlers. Featured last week was the two-light mixed troubles competition. Twenty-two Newmarket and district rinks entered. Steve Rose, with Mrs. Goring and Mrs. Fre, won first prize with three wins for 41 plus 7. Vaughan Goring with Mrs. Frank Doyle and Mrs. F. Coates were second with three wins for 41. Frank Brammer with Mrs. F. Courtney and Ernie Wright were third with three wins for 33.

High with two wins were Norm Hopper with Mrs. C. Willis and Grace Doyle with 36 plus 6. High for one win was Geo. Pattenden's Aurora rink of Mrs. G. Pattenden and Bill Morris with 31 plus 13.

Labor Day brought in 12 rinks in search of the J. O. Little Mixed Trebles Trophy. For one of the few times in history of the trophy, it went out of town to Gordon Lemon's Stouffville entry. Horace Cumber's rink of Ernie Wright and Mrs. E. Wright were second. High for two wins was Mrs. Claridge's Tottenham rink. Ray Jelley with John Macnab and Mrs. J. Macnab were fourth.

HASHMAN AWARD

Joint For Five-Hitter

Back in our own back yard, this week. Yes sir, Bill "Joint" McComb is our nomination for the Hashman award and Roxy Theatre pass. Last Wednesday, Bill came up with a magnificently hurled five hitter to put the hex on the Pete Neufeld-Harry Boag Specialties. Bill's fast ball was working like a trip hammer, claiming an even dozen strike-outs. That victory started the Triple Seven Taximen off to a flying start in the town league finals.

Taximen Win First Of Finals McComb Pitches Five-Hitter

Office Specialty supporters had gloomy statistics to pour over when considering the plight of their heroes in the first game of the Town League finals. Here's what happened. The Cabmen loosed a torrent of eight base-hits in the first and third frames Wednesday to crush the Specialty 11-3.

Bill McComb caused most consternation in the Specialty camp by tossing an effective five-hitter, claiming an even dozen of strike-outs. "Joint" had a no-hitter simmering until the fourth. It was then that Charlie VanZant, his former battery mate, strode to the platter to hoist a Texas leaguer into right. Joier couldn't get VanZant out. He walked him in the second, VanZant hit hard in the fourth and capped a 1000 batting average with a looper single in the sixth. Harry Brammer, Pine Orchard's gift to the Specialty was customer two buying McComb's stuff. He snagged two, a bunt in the fifth and a rifle shot ground skimmer through the middle in the seventh. Don Burch tagged the other Specialty hit. It came on top of Harry Brammer's second safetie and advanced him to third from whence he trotted home with Specialty's third run on a wild leave. Specialty's two second frame runs were spiked minus a bit as Charlie VanZant strolled, John Hisey punched a drive at Alvie McKnight, Cabmen's second sacker, and Harry Brammer lofted a run scoring right field fly out.

The Cabmen hit like a ton of bricks in the jump-off frame and after two were out. Jerry Hugo started it by hitting into a force out. Hack Cain busted a sizzler through the infield, Harv. Gibney got life as Don Gibson muffed his lift back of short. That miscue counted two runs and "Joint" McComb gave himself a four-run working edge by doubling into center and stretched it to a round tripper as Long John Hisey juggled it. The Cabmen turned it into a rout in the third as Alvie McKnight and Jerry Hugo singled, Hack Cain waited John Sheddlock out for a stroll Harv Gibney Joint McComb and Bruce Townsley singled and Normie Legge climaxed the big seven run innings with a two base belt that he promptly turned into a homer on an error and a wild peg.

From that point on John Sheddlock got back in character shutting off the Triple Sevens hitting and run scoring.

The big innings for the Merchants was the third when they punished Harts' chucker, Doug Richardson, with a nine-run uprising. The Merchants had the Hartsmen on the ropes, building up a 14-1 advantage in the fifth. The Diamonds finally got the key to Lefty Jack Andrews, who started on the Merchants' mound, for a run of base hits in the sixth for six runs. They added two in the seventh before saying "uncle". Andy Closs Jr., Tommie Brodie and Jack Andrews gained high hit marks for the winners. Alex Campbell whacked away for three hits to keep busy with the bat in the Harts' cause. Finals open tonight with Merchants vs Ditch Diggers.

SPITFIRES MEETING

The annual meeting of the Newmarket intermediate hockey club will be held at the Memorial Arena on Wednesday, Sept. 12, at 8 p.m. Everybody is invited to attend. The first step in achieving a first rate hockey team is to get started away on the right foot. So let's make the start by having everybody out to this meeting and an overflow attendance. Arena Manager Stan Smith reports they'll be a vacant chair for everybody.

First Floods, Score Board Up Monday

The first floodlights are up. A bank of five were mounted Monday. It is hoped to be able to complete the mounting of the lights this week. Five lights are set up on each of the outfield poles, four are required on the center poles and three each on the poles behind home plate, making a total of 24 lights.

The floods are of aluminum and are of the latest design. There are 1500 watt bulbs in each flood.

The floodlights and cross-arms arrived Friday and outside of a few minor items all the material required for the complete installation has arrived.

Another welcome addition to the Fair Grounds diamond is the new score-board. It was put up Monday morning. Ted Robinson, proprietor of the Marigold Gift Shoppe, is the donor.

Harold LaPlante did the complete job of mounting the cross-arms and first bank of floodlights. Charlie VanZant, Geo. Haskett and Charles McDonald acted as his ground crew on the first installation. Other volunteer workers over the holiday weekend were Eddie Gibson, Geo. Watt, Lorne Paynter and Ned Speed.

King Meets Tansley In O.R.S.A. Third Round

King has their marching orders in the third round of O.R.S.A. reports Bruce Hall. King recently knocked off Eagle Lake in two straight and drew a second round bye and will meet Tansley in the third round.

King coach John Mahley is expecting a tough series as Tansley eliminated the strong Cooksville entry. The best two out of three set opened last night and return game will be in King Friday evening. Game time is 6:30.

Schomberg, the other team carrying the Peel-York League banner in O.R.S.A., is awaiting advice at the moment on their third round opponents. Schomberg eliminated Haliburton in two straight and drew a bye in the second round. Third round opposition is expected to come from either Ermosa or Millgrove.

Renews Opposition To Plant Council Insists That Hydro Building Be Reconstructed

A general meeting of the town council was held in the municipal chambers on Tuesday night, when there were present Mayor Bell, Reeve Cook, Deputy-Reeve Murray, Councillors Corbett, Davies, Fielding, Gundy, Jones and Pringle. Also present were town clerk K. G. Moses and Mrs. Dickson, asst. town clerk.

A considerable number of petitioners were present, led by Mr. L. P. Evans, regarding the Garfat company plant. Mr. S. Gordon Hoffman was also present.

The usual first business of council dealing with correspondence was held over in order to immediately hear the petitioners represented by Mr. Evans. Because there were not enough chairs to accommodate the visitors, most of whom had to stand during the hearing.

Asked by Mayor Bell what he had to say further in the matter, Mr. Evans replied that they had stated their case at the earlier meeting of council and he saw no reason to rehash it. It was for council to say what it proposed to do in view of the petition opposing the installation of the Garfat company's plant in a residential area.

Mr. Garfat and Engineer

Invited by the mayor to speak, Mr. W. Garfat dealt at some length with the features of the proposed plant of the company. He maintained that as it would be constructed on the newest and most modern lines there would be no risk of odors.

The town engineer was understood to concur in Mr. Garfat's claims that the new plant would not be detrimental in any way to the interests of the residential area concerned, and was further understood to say that the department of health was fully satisfied in the matter.

An argument put forward that the interests of the residents would be guaranteed was challenged by a petitioner opposing the plant, who asked what value they could place in guarantees in view of the fact that the council allowed its own by-laws to be broken in the building of town properties.

Deputy-Reeve Murray intervened to say that the infraction of by-laws was a matter that would have to be attended to immediately.

No Action Yet

Following considerable discussion, the deputy-reeve suggested that the petitioners withdraw for a little time to study the arguments put forward by Mr. Garfat and the submissions of the town engineer, and then return to council and say whether they had found reasons for any alteration in their opposition to the plant being installed on the proposed site.

Absent for about half an hour, Mr. Evans and other petitioners came back to council to state that

AURORA PERSONALITIES

T. F. Swindle

To become designated as a "personality" one must possess certain traits that differentiate its holder from the mass of men. These traits may be either intellectual or physical in character. In the latter category an unusual hat will set off a man as a personality.

We remember a time when Mr. Winston Churchill was known throughout his native land as the "man who wears the funny hats". Churchill's 50 to 60 different styles in hats were a source of national amusement and because of his flair for unusual headgear he became a British personality. This phase preceded his later fame as politician and a connoisseur in cigars.

Mr. T. F. Swindle, better known as "Tom" Swindle, is a personality, not because he wears funny hats but for other reasons not so common. He is known as an aggressive man whose sharp tongue can make enemies. But none would deny his mental ability and his enthusiasm for the success of causes once he has thrown in his lot with them.

Successful Farmer

Born on a farm at Ardree, near Orillia, he later farmed there until 1923 when in the spring of that year he was appointed superintendent of the Innisfree farms, a position he was to hold for 18 and a half years.

He did not secure that important position without proof of farming merits. He studied agriculture and out of his studies won a prize entitling him to a course at Guelph O.A.C.

As a practical farmer, the numerous trophies he won in competitions provide solid evidence of his skill, knowledge and energy.

Trophies Won

A beautiful silver trophy was his award as second prize in the Ontario plowman's association in the provincial plowing match held at the Guelph experimental farm on November 5, 1915.

On November 19, 1915, in the association he took first prize at King, his award being a four-piece silver tea set. On the same day at King he won a special prize for the best finish in sod in any class.

On November 2, 1916, he won a silver trophy in a plowing match in the O.P.A. at Whitby. In the same month and year at Richmond Hill he won a swivel hook for the best crown in sod in a King and Vaughan match. While these are not all, they represent major triumphs in competitions in the practical farming career of Tom Swindle.

Innisfree Farms

During the 18½ years Mr. Swindle held the position of superintendent of the Innisfree farms he won a number of important awards. Chief among these was a silver tea set and silver tray for the best dairy herd showing for two years in succession. A member of this herd won the reserve all-American award for two-year-olds in 1932.

On retirement Mr. and Mrs. Swindle received from the Walker family, owners of Innisfree farms, a very beautiful Westminster chime clock as an expression of appreciation for his services during which he had entire control of all the farms.

The inscription on the clock reads: "From the younger members of the Walker family." During Mr. Swindle's years of service the older, original owners of the farms had passed on.

Retirement Irksome

Finding retirement irksome, after a long, active life, Mr. Swindle accepted a position offered to him by the Collis Leather Company. This was in the blue sorting department of which he was placed in charge.

In 1944 and again in 1947-8 he was elected to the Aurora town council. He was appointed as one of the seven arena commissioners and served for two years. His recent resignation from the com-

UNSIGNED ARENA REPORT

The first fault we have to find with the report from the arena commission, a copy of which was published in our issue of August 23, is the absence of any signatures to it. It is reasonable to expect that such a report would have been signed by the chairman or the secretary-treasurer or both, of the arena commission. In the absence of any authorizing signatures the report has no more value than a scrap of paper.

We would like to have been informed on what authority the report was issued and by whom it was sanctioned. All we know is that a copy of the unsigned report was handed out by Mayor Bell at the council meeting on August 20 for the use of the press. No member of the commission was present at council to explain any questions that might be asked; and the unsigned report was adopted by council without comment or discussion.

This would appear to be a very offhand method of proceeding with arena activities involving more than $18,000 for a year's operating figures. No insurance policy, motor licence, building permit and so on would have any value whatsoever unless signatures were on them to ensure guaranty. We do not like to discuss statements that are unsigned, emanating from unspecified sources; but as regards the arena commission report there is no alternative.

Assuming the report was signed, there are a number of questions concerning it of public interest. The unsigned report represents a payment of $4,850 for interest on debentures and principal on debentures, and presumably these payments were for the year 1950. There is the sum of $4,354.09 shown as a balance on hand as of July 31, 1951. If it is true, as we believe is the case, that a further payment of $4,850 for interest and principal on debentures fell due in August, 1951, there will be a deficit and not a credit.

FREE TIME COST?

Simply the unsigned report appears to show a two years' earning period but only one interest and debenture payment. If this is correct, then the report suggests a rosy financial picture which does not now exist in view of the further interest on debentures and principal on debentures amounting to $4,850 falling due for payment last month. The balance on hand on July 31, 1951, of $4,354.09 would be wiped out in August, 1951, and the arena project will commence its winter activities faced with a cash deficit.

The unsigned report claims that 272 hours of ice time was supplied free for minor hockey practices and games and Sunday public skating. This free time should have been estimated at cost and set out in the report so that an overall picture could be shown. No such estimate has been made in the report and any comment on it would be mere speculation, serving no useful purpose.

The arena is one of Aurora's major public investments of $80,000 and we suggest that the public is entitled to better treatment than is provided by an unsigned report. Instead of adopting the report without comment or discussion, the town council ought to have held it over for purposes of clarification.

Council should have requested information on such matters as the auditing of the accounts and by whom the report was authorized. Council did none of these elementary things and by neglecting them failed in another of its public responsibilities.

Unless the arena activities are self-supporting an additional financial load will have to be carried by the taxpayers. There is no apparent reason why the arena activities should not be self-supporting if they are handled in a business-like manner. Any committee that does not issue signed reports of its activities can hardly claim to be business-like.

WHY DID SWINDLE RESIGN?

It was surprising that no member of council brought up the question of Mr. Swindle's resignation at its meeting on August 20 when it was decided without discussion to reappoint the remaining members of the arena commission for a further two years of office. Was council afraid of Mr. Swindle and thought it better to try and "bury" him with as little comment as possible?

Surely he deserved a vote of thanks from council for his two years' service on the arena commission. It would have been a gracious thing for council to have said: "Thank you, Mr. Swindle, for the time you have given to the unpaid job to which we appointed you two years ago. You have thought fit to resign, but thanks all the same."

Mr. Swindle's major trouble appears to be that he speaks his mind in the public interest. Some members of council don't like that. Their nervous systems are disturbed by a little criticism, and from whatever source it comes they'd like to close that "noisy trap". Fortunately, however, they don't always succeed.

Mr. Swindle, who was the representative of the recreation commission on the arena commission, in his explanatory remarks to the former body, said it was "hopeless" trying to work with the arena commission. Members didn't attend regularly; even the mayor and Councillor Gundy had attended two meetings only.

Members of the arena commission are appointed by the town council. The present membership is composed of Mr. F. R. Underhill, chairman; Mr. W. H. Stoddart, secretary-treasurer; Mayor Bell, Councillor Gundy, Mr. A. Cousins and Dr. Henderson. A seventh member is to be appointed to succeed Mr. Swindle.

Some more elucidation on Mr. Swindle's resignation is due to the public we think.

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING

Why Is Tom Dickson Going? Stories Of Vacation Tours Through Canada And U.S.A.

There have been so many changes in Aurora since the beginning of the year that one is inclined to wonder what is coming next! They are saying there will be some changes in the town council setup when the municipal elections come along in December.

We are concerned, however, with what has already happened, not with what may happen. And one thing that is disturbing many people is the imminent departure of Mr. Tom Dickson.

We were in a friend's house when a telephone enquiry came through. This was to ask for confirmation of Mr. Dickson's reported intention to accept a position as arena manager and recreation director in the town of Aylmer. Our friend had heard nothing of the report and was considerably taken aback with the enquiry. He was not more astonished than we were.

The first thought that such news provoked was: "What has Aylmer got that Aurora hasn't?" They are towns of comparable size. Neither town, so far as we know, is on the crest of a new prosperity. Why should Tom Dickson want to leave Aurora to make a new home in Aylmer? These were natural questions in such a situation.

A Popular Man

We make no bones about it: We like Tom Dickson. He has always seemed to us the right man for the job he has held in Aurora for the past two years. He has an easy friendly manner. He has made himself very popular, especially among the younger folk. And these are the folk that matter in the job he was appointed to do.

If the arena is to be successful it will have to attract to itself the young people in Aurora. Mr. Dickson has the right temperament, and the right manner, to appeal to younger people. Himself a successful sportsman, he has developed many excellent young Aurora sportsmen.

He has done wonders in working for the young folk through the recreation commission. He hasn't spared himself. We believe we are correct in stating that he has had no vacation since his appointment in Aurora. We know that he has done a lot of voluntary work, purely in the interests of the young. And the young folks, to our knowledge, have idolized Tom Dickson.

Why Is He Going?

We have not seen Mr. Dickson since the last meeting of the recreation commission, which was held on August 17. If there is an inside story we have not heard it. All we have heard is that Aylmer has offered him opportunities that he has not had here, especially as regards remuneration. He will, we understand, better himself financially.

The arena problem is one that is becoming increasingly discussed in Aurora. The public has $80,000 invested in the arena, and that is a big investment. The arena will have to enjoy an accelerated success if the debenture loan is to be liquidated. That sort of success does not appear to be coming its way at the present time.

To our best knowledge, the arena commission had a meeting in April, and a further meeting in July. Another meeting, we believe, is scheduled for this month. That pace is much too slow to make a success of the arena, especially in view of the fact that there is no regular attendance on the part of the members of the commission.

These are matters which we are dealing with in our editorial column at the present time. Without enthusiastic co-operation on the part of all the members of the commission success will not come to the Memorial Arena.

Meantime, it is a matter of the deepest regret that Aurora is to lose Tom Dickson. He seemed to us the ideal man for the job he was given.

B. F. Davis

In June of this year we noted in these columns the 47th anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Davis. In an old history which included Aurora, we read this of Mr. Davis: "Mr. Davis established himself in business here twelve years ago and since that time has met with pronounced success."

The Mr. Davis of that time is still going strong. He can make the honorable claim of being Aurora's oldest business man and will celebrate 50 years of activity as a merchant at an early date, having commenced here in the year 1902. We are happy to state that both Mr. and Mrs. Davis are enjoying the best of health.

In conversation with his son, Clarence, the other day, we learned of new projects that are under consideration affecting the modernization of their business premises. These are to be altered so as to provide greater office space and other trading facilities.

Royal Theatre Feature

We draw the attention of our readers to a special serial feature which will be released at the Royal theatre on September 7, entitled "The Sea Hound," written around the dare-devil adventures of that celebrated character, Capt. Silver.

The serial will be released in 15 episodes and will star Larry, "Buster", Crabbe, and will make an especial appeal to the young folk of all ages. Other excellent attractions at the Royal are announced in an adjoining column of theatre news.

Manager Clifford Griffiths reports a continuance of fine attendances at the Royal, where every effort is made to put on shows of outstanding interest.

Canadian Tour

Entering the Hudson confectionery store on Yonge street the other evening we saw a deeply-tanned, stoutish man emerge from the rear shadows. It was none other than John Hudson himself, gawk from a Canadian tour lasting over a month. In his Pontiac, Mr. and Mrs. Hudson had covered over 5,000 miles, including one day's run of around 400 miles.

He had a delightful story to relate of the fine time they had had together. From Aurora they proceeded to Ottawa, Montreal, Quebec city, and down the St. Lawrence to Montjoli, to New Brunswick, Sydney, N.S., and across the Gulf of St. Lawrence to Newfoundland.

For fifteen days they toured Newfoundland, doing 1100 miles by train, 500 miles by car, and

Aurora Lawn Bowlers At Stouffville, Newmarket

With lawn bowling contests in full swing, members of the Aurora club are enjoying a share of some of the winnings. It is generally admitted that the Aurora lawn bowling greens are not surpassed by any and are in fact superior to most. The Aurora club is not among the largest in numbers, but its members are exceedingly active and include some very fine bowlers.

The Aurora club was represented at the Stouffville mixed trebles contests last week, where 20 rinks competed for the Watts trophy and accompanying prizes. Aurora was represented by George Pattenden, Mrs. Pattenden and Russell Sinclair.

This team was surpassed only by C. Pipher's rink from Stouffville, who won the tournament. They did, however, come in second, with Earl Beare's team from Claremont taking third place.

Another Aurora rink skipped by W. Morris, and which included Mrs. Clauson and Leo Potter, was high for one win.

Newmarket Victors

There was a splendid turnout for the Newmarket mixed trebles' contest when 22 rinks entered.

The Newmarket teams, playing in great style, proved themselves the victors by taking first, second and third places. S. Rose, F. Brammer and V. Goring won the above contests respectively.

Two high wins were brought off by N. Horper, skip, while high for one win was recorded by G. Pattenden, Mrs. Pattenden and W. Morris.

Although the ancient summer game is now passing its heyday for 1951, there are still many contests ahead during the months of September and October.

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

TO WELCOME THE DAY

The sun was shining to welcome the day when on Thursday we accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Evans to that mecca toward which most feet turn in these two enchanted weeks—the C.N.E.

Usually our feet turn almost of their own volition toward the flower show, but this year a long-ing not to be denied was mine—to see the cats. So we hied us off to the Horse Palace and as we were early, we visited some of the friendly horses, watched some of them being scrubbed and tails braided—as one attendant said, they needed lots of care for they suffered from the heat.

When we came to the tiny ponies we lingered. One little lad who was making a pony almost as small look beautiful, showed us the long line of stalls occupied by his father's exhibit. Two girls were also busy. We were amused when their father came along, for he said to us "I paid $1,000 for those ponies and all the girls think of is to see everything else and go off with their boy friends." However, I saw the girls exercising the ponies in the ring afterwards so they must have been of some use.

We were intrigued by the string of wooden balls round some of the riding horses' feet—the ponies too—and we asked an attendant "why?" Said he, "I've asked everyone and no one knows." So they are still a mystery as far as we are concerned.

We walked along with half the Ex visitors through Elsie the Cow's reception room. She wasn't using her telephone but was eating lunch, so we had no conversation with her as she was extremely busy. One mother told me that all her children wanted to see was Elsie and indeed they seemed quite satisfied.

An awful disappointment awaited me when we went back to the pet show exhibit—cats had been taken home the night before! Cats, apparently, are too temperamental to stand being looked at very long.

Then we made our way to the band stand for we wanted to hear the section the Newmarket band was playing in. We heard three bands from London, Ont., which we thought was a mighty good showing. There was the London Girls' and Boys' Band, the London Police Club Boys' Band and the London Police Club's Junior Boys' Band. They were excellent, with a mellowness of tone that did credit to bandmaster and members. Burlington also had a good boys' and girls' band as had Brussels and it seems so good to see how many boys and girls are taking music seriously and how many people will sit happily for hours listening.

When section II came we were all ears. The test piece, "Romantic Overtures by Erik Leiden" was rather out of the ordinary and unlike most overtures. It opened with a passage played almost pianissimo which is a test in itself especially if there is no flute or oboe section. Bill Greig did wonders with substitutions and if he had had those instruments there is no doubt that his band would have come first instead of second.

We thought its fugue part—runs following runs, was away ahead of the Georgetown band. I'm afraid I use piano terms—and in the allegro there was a crispness and precision that was very fine. The adjudicator said that it was hard on bands that lacked woodwinds and it was quite wonderful how the bandmasters tailored their parts to suit their material. He also said that cymbals, drums and triangles should be given far more attention and we understood better what he meant when we listened to and watched the United States Air Force Band in the evening.

About six o'clock, a slight feeling of emptiness prevailing, we went to Stoodleigh's for dinner and at our table was a young man from Lithuania. He told us that as a school boy with 60 other men, women and children, he was shut up in a car and without food for ten days, but he escaped and came here and thinks Canada a wonderful place. He has a job with the railroad and is content. His mother is in West Germany.

We were on the grandstand in the afternoon, but the horses were the only thing I really enjoyed. Surely the C.N.E. could find something better than hell drivers and I always feel sorry for the monkeys.

At night, we, with thousands of others listened to the Bell singers and then to the U.S.A.F. Band. Many had to stand but a silent, appreciative and delighted audience—and no wonder with so much to delight them. One cannot speak of everything but among the many beautiful things was a solo "Ave Maria" sung by one of the girls with a very wonderful vocal accompaniment. Dr. Bell will add new laurels to his already fine record by the use of these fine solo voices.

Then the U.S.A.F. Band came on. The first part of its program was orchestral and anything like the perfect co-ordination of every part—the precision was almost unbelievable. When I could tear my eyes—what an expression—from watching every bow arm in the violin section moving in perfect unison, I'd look at the cellos or the bass viols and there too every bow moved as if magnetized by the conductor's baton. I've never heard the Post and Peasant overture played as they played it. They had a magnificent soloist—one of the Seven Singing Sergeants, and what an aggregation of singers they are. The second part of the program was by the symphonic band portion—no violins—but cornets and trombones in their place.

It was fine too and they did one piece that was awfully funny—and a masterpiece in its way—A Wedding. Everything from starting the old Ford in the morning through the ceremony to the return via a train which nearly fell into a river—we heard the bridge go down. The part of the minister was taken by the oboe, the bride by the clarinet and the groom by the trombone. You could follow it perfectly after Lorne Green's introduction. We heard some fine singing for besides the band soloist and the Singing Sergeants, Dr. Bell had a fine soloist and also a solo pianist. Altogether, for two hours and a quarter we had a time of exquisite pleasure and not the least of it was enjoying the beauty of the band shell with its fairylike lighting and this lighting effect on the brass horns. It made of them huge jewelled flowers! We had only one fault to find with the day—like all days at the Ex it was far, far too short!

The ashes of a six foot man will usually weigh between eight and nine pounds after cremation. Rats, when faced with a difficult problem, will bite their nails.

WHEELAND — KREGER

At St. Andrew's United church, Port Dalhousie, on August 20 at 7 p.m. amid a setting of gladioli, Winifred Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kroger, and Mr. Graeme Taylor Wheeland, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wheeland, Newmarket, were united in marriage. Rev. T. Carmichael officiated at the double ring ceremony. The guest organist was Mr. E. Henry who will take over in place of the bride who has been organist for two years. Mr. W. A. Gibson, baritone, sang three solos.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional white satin gown with fitted bodice featuring Peter Pan collar of lace and seed pearls, the full skirt had a short train. Her fingertip veil was held by a halo set with pearls. She carried a white Bible with cascade of red rosebuds and a beautifully embroidered heirloom handkerchief 125 years old.

The bride was attended by Miss Joan Slade, maid of honor, and bridesmaids, Misses Beatrice Hooper, Patricia Crumb and Marie Kroger, sister of the bride. All wore strapless gowns of organza over taffeta in pastel shades with bouffant skirts, lace capes and halo headresses. They carried matching bouquets of gladioli and all wore matching pearls and earrings, the gift of the bride.

Mr. Douglas French was groomsmen and ushers were, Mr. Alfred Kroger, brother of the bride, Mr. Robert Shields, and Mr. Kenneth Wheeland, brother of the groom. An interesting feature was the attendance in two groups of the bride's Sunday school girls and C.G.I.T. The latter group served the guests at supper which followed in the church hall.

The bride's mother received in navy sheer with small pink feather hat and corsage of roses, assisted by the groom's mother in green sheer, picture hat and corsage of roses. For the trip to Niagara and New York state the bride chose an aqua suit with pink accessories. The couple will live in Ottawa where the groom is stationed at Military Headquarters.

During the reception a message of congratulations and good wishes was received from the groom's brother, Robert Wheeland, at Fort Churchill. Guests were present from Hagersville, St. Catharines, Toronto, Hamilton, London, Brantford, and Newmarket.

BRIDE-TO-BE FETED

Miss Elizabeth Brammer, a bride-to-be, has been entertained in London several times recently. Mrs. D. M. Stevenson entertained at a handkerchief shower and tea, Mrs. M. McKibbin at a luncheon, and Mrs. A. E. Lawrence, mother of the groom, at a tea. Miss Brammer and Mr. Edward Lawrence will be married in Trinity United church, Newmarket, on September 23.

What They Are Saying In Aurora

nearly 200 miles of water travel. On this tour Mr. Hudson visited his home-towns of Pouch Cove and Cape St. Francis. Not far distant is St. John's Signal Hill, where Marconi's first wireless message was received.

John told us of many changes he had seen for the better since his last visit to Newfoundland. Incidentally, this was his second visit in the long period of 44 years. "The people are better-dressed and are enjoying greater prosperity," he said. There was one change he found, however, that was not for the better. "Old school mates are beginning to look like old men," he reflected.

Visits were paid to about a score of Newfoundland outposts. One out-standing memory was the sight of literally acres of ripe blueberries, all of which are under government regulation. On fishing expeditions some excellent speckled trout was caught, among other varieties.

Mr. and Mrs. Hudson had a real vacation. No flat tires or troubles of any kind. Just a shoal of happy memories to look back on.

American Tour

In Aurora News Page issue of July 12 we reported the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Garstang and family by car and trailer for a tour in the United States. The actual date of their departure was July 3, and they arrived home on August 28, via Montreal and Ottawa, having covered a total of 3010 miles. The travellers describe their tour as a wholly delightful one.

Mr. Garstang kept a careful log-book of each day's journey and only the limitations of space forbid our reproducing it here. It is interesting to note daily distances covered. For example, on their first day out they did 123 miles, which took them near to Trenton. On three successive days they covered a total mileage of 355.

These journeys were made on August 16, 17 and 18, from Concord, N.H., to White River Junction, through Vermont to Essex, V.T., Lake Champlain, thence to Lachine, Montreal. Famous names appear in the log-book: Thousand Island Bridge, Scotia, New Lebanon, Yarmouth, Cape Cod, Boston, Biddeford Pool, Maine, where the Garstangs visited the Aurora Rowatts, who had a cottage near Biddeford Pool.

Highlights

A highlight of their stay at Cape Cod was their meeting with Mr. and Mrs. R. Cornish (the latter a sister of Mrs. B. Willis) who were on a vacation at Yarmouth. These "home" touches added greatly to the enjoyment of their itinerary.

The travellers often went by car, minus the trailer, to points of historic interest. Among these were Salem, where they saw the "House of Seven Gables," made famous by Hawthorne, and, of course, Boston.

They were fortunate in having generally wonderful weather. Mr. and Mrs. Garstang are full of praise of American friendliness. Although tired after their long journey, they are glad to have had what they describe as a "wonderful experience". There Persian cat, which they took with them, returned fit and well.

ARMITAGE

Miss Margaret Cook accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Reid and family to their cottage at Lake Simcoe for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Paul moved into Newmarket last Saturday.

Mr. Doug Nigh was the groomsmen and Mrs. Doug Nigh, a bridesmaid, at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Nigh on Saturday, Sept. 1, at the Ringwood Christian Church. Mr. and Mrs. Morley Cook also attended the wedding.

Mrs. Loffree was formerly in the teaching profession with Mrs. Stewart. Bride Elect Feled

Miss June Brown, a popular bride to be of this month, has been honored with four pre-nuptial showers and a presentation from the manufacturing firm with which she is employed. A community shower was given at King United church; a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Lester Brown, a sister-in-law, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Brown, June's parents, and when family relatives were guests; an evening at the home of Mrs. W. Walker at Weston when June's fellow employees were shower guests. The family and relatives of the prospective groom, Jack Young, Downsview, gathered at the home of his aunt, Miss Olive Young, Toronto, for presentations from 20 guests. A tri-light lamp was presented to June by the executive of the Canadian Acme Screw and Gear Company in whose office she is employed.

First Church Wedding

A service of unusual interest was held in St. Paul's Presbyterian church, ninth line, on Saturday, Sept. 1, when the first wedding ceremony in the 102-year-old church was performed by Rev. W. W. Weir, Brampton, for Miss Lundy June Johnston, daughter of Mrs. Gladys Broughton, Bond Head, to Gordon Murray, Toronto. Mr. David Wether- spoon assisted in the ceremony. In recognition of the first marriage in the church, the bride was presented with a Bible by the elders of the congregation. The reception was held in Nobleton community hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lockridge, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Storey, Napanee, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Scott from Friday until Sunday and all attended the Exhibition on Saturday.

Billy and Donnie Scott, young children of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Scott, returned from St. Catharines early this week to find a baby sister in the home, born on Friday, Aug. 24, at York County hospital, Newmarket. The little lady, whose name is Anne Josephine, weighed eight pounds, eight ounces at birth.

The Hatley family was rejoined this week when George Jr., returned from Edmonton where he found employment for vacation weeks, Joyce returned from Port Severn after enjoying summer work in the Severn House and Carol returned from Beverley Farm, Aurora, where she was a guest for two weeks. Carol, who enrolled at Aurora high school this week, rode Billy Sunday, a hunter owned by R. B. Russell, Toronto. Her brother, George, is returning to high school to complete two subjects of the senior matriculation course.

Rev. Harry Bartlett, his wife and children, Helen and Harry, Brechin, called on Mrs. Arthur Hamilton last week enroute from Hamilton where they had been vacationing with their married daughter. Mr. Bartlett is pastor of the Brechin United church. Mrs. Bartlett is a sister of Mrs. Wellesley. Tony Burger, Barrie, visited his grandmother, Mrs. Wellesley, on Sunday and Monday and with the Burger family, had Sunday lunch with Mr. and Mrs. Morris McKinnon at Toronto. Mrs. McKinnon was the former Blanche Wellesley.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Green motored their daughter, Mrs. Kemp, her husband, Bob, and son, Robbie, back to Niagara Falls during the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Green are 25 years married this week. Their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Zimmerman, Niagara Falls, also had their silver wedding anniversary this week. On Saturday, Sept. 8, Mr. and Mrs. George Hatley will be 23 years married.

Goets to England September 14

Mrs. Geoffrey Whittle and her daughter, Catherine, leave New York harbor on Friday, Sept. 14, sailing on the Queen Elizabeth for their home in Crown Hill, Plymouth, Eng. They will have visited here for three months and the time has flown so rapidly, Mrs. Whittle can scarcely realize the time is drawing near when partings must be made. She and her husband and daughter have lived in England for five years and while Mr. Whittle returned to his own people, for her, life there is a new and pleasant experience. And while she would willingly live in Canada again where her husband so disinclined Mrs. Whittle finds the old country mode of life good for one's well being.

"Everything moves more slowly; there is little hurry and bustle in the daily routine," she said depicting the beauty and serenity of the countryside at Plymouth. Catherine, just turning 14, is quite convinced she "could never live in Canada". She has made her girlhood friends in England, attends the secondary school there and is quite sure her teenage group there enjoy life better than Canadian young people. Catherine is an art student among other interests.

While at King, Mrs. Whittle made her headquarters at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Scott, living on the farm where as Mary Mitchell, daughter of the late Robert Mitchell, a pioneer settler, she was born and raised. Her brother, John, lives nearby on the 7th con. and a brother, Willie Mitchell, is at Kleinburg. She visited relatives at Weston, Toronto, Zephyr and other places.

Mrs. Aubrey Campbell was hostess to dinner guests on Sunday, her sister, Isobel Hawkins, and husband, Chris, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Follitt, Weston, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Follitt and grandchildren, Bruce, Ronald and Carolyn Parker. Bruce Parker is taking a week's holiday at Weston. He works at King City Cold Storage.

Wins Red Cross Jr. Swimming

Miss Julia Bell, 12 attained the Red Cross junior swimming certificate in a test taken at the Thornhill pool on August 30. She was one of 18 in the contest and now has her certificate card gained her experience from her and button in recognition of the accomplishment. Julia has never taken swimming lessons, having gained her experience from her love of the water. "Wherever there is a pool she is in it," her mother said. The test taken in 10' 6" of water requires swimming the width of the pool on the back, twice on the stomach, treading water for two minutes. Her brother, Rodney, ten, and Jo Ann Wilson, ten, who have been in regular classes at Thornhill during the holidays, made a creditable showing in this contest but did not qualify for the standing. Jo Ann, unfortunately, was seized with a cramp.

Receive Graduation Button

Rodney Bell and Richard Chaplin won their graduation buttons in one day at the Thornhill swimming pool conducted under the auspices of the Red Cross for children this summer.

They wear the minnow, sunfish and shark buttons. Others from King taking the course won theirs at separate times. The King children with many others in the county have had a splendid summer under competent instructors to anticipate next summer's course.

Mrs. Ralph Baker and daughter, Jean, Stouffville, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Bell on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Ascott and Bobbie enjoyed a 1,500-mile motor trip to Detroit, through the state of Michigan along the shores of Lake Huron, crossing by ferry through the Mackinaw Straits, to Sault Ste. Marie, to Sudbury and North Bay. They had intended to camp but the weather proved too cold, so cabin accommodation was welcome. They found roads excellent and tourist park accommodation in Michigan but find the "best scenery in Ontario". They were glad to see grain fields again after the extensive acreage of corn and soy bean in the U.S.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Wilson, Toronto, spent part of Monday at the home of Mrs. Wilson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kelley. Mr. and Mrs. George Muir and family, Douglas, Marjorie and Shirley, Brechin, were Sunday guests of Mr. Muir's sister, Mrs. Norman Ferguson.

Wrestling Club Needs Assistant

King City Wrestling club will resume activities on Monday, Sept. 10, under coach Bob McLeod. Physical development and clean sportsmanship are featured in the training. More members are welcome as it makes for more fun for all, the coach points out.

Mr. McLeod would like to have some assistance with the coaching. No technical knowledge is necessary, he states. Anyone who could lead or keep order would be a great help in this community work. No salary is attached to any position in the club but funds are necessary to keep the club in operation. Mr. M. H. Bell, the treasurer, announces a public drive for funds will be set up on October 1 for the purpose of fixing up the present gym.

"And Now I See" Excellent Film

A sound drama film, depicting the wider aspects of the church with an inspirational message and possessing educational value, will be shown by Mr. David Wether- spoon under the heading "And Now I See", at Eversley Presbyterian church Sunday evening, Sept. 9, at 8 p.m. It will be the annual W.M.S. service to which all neighboring congregations are invited as well as Aurora, Richmond Hill, Strathroy and Maple. The story of the picture has a real appeal and is known to many for its excellence. Eversley Society will be in charge of the service with Mrs. Fred Curtis, the president, in the chair. Mrs. Gordon Orr, King, will be vocal soloist.

On Sunday, Sept. 30, the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be conducted by Rev. W. W. Weir of Brampton in the Presbyterian charge at the regular hours, Ninth Line, 11 a.m.; St. Andrew's Strathroy at 2:30 and Eversley at 8 p.m. On Sunday, Oct. 7, services at St. Paul's and Eversley will alternate morning and evening as by the former arrangement. Sunday-school at All Saints' Anglican church will be resumed on Sunday, Sept. 9, at 2:30 in the afternoon. Everyone interested is urged to attend on the opening day.

Mrs. Jefferson of Rothsay, N.B., and her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Jefferson, were recent visitors of Mrs. David Lewis, who, with her husband, lives in the home of Mr. Walter Monkman.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Burns, London, Ont., were weekend visitors of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Greer. Mr. Burns is a nephew of Mrs. Greer.

Her First Visit to Canada

Miss Joan Snell, 64 Bramble St., Coventry, Eng., has been a guest of Mrs. George Hatley at Eaton Hall Farm for three weeks. She returned home on August 29, sailing on the Franconia. Her first visit to Canada, she saw places of interest during her stay, Niagara Falls, Guelph, Hamilton, Port Severn to see Joyce Hatley. Before sailing the visitor spent a few days in Quebec city. She is a physical instructor in a high school in London, and will resume her work on arrival in England.

Afternoon Tea at C.N.E.

The afternoon tea given for press and radio women in the tea room of the Women's Building at the C.N.E. last Friday afternoon provided relaxed moments for busy women who earlier had attended the more formal luncheon. Mrs. Kay Merton, editor of the Elora Express was principal speaker. Receiving were Mrs. Hugh Temple, wife of the editor of the Fergus News Record, Mrs. T. E. Boyce, Toronto, Mrs. J. J. E. McCague of Alliston and Mrs. Shannon, wife of Controller J. L. Shannon, Toronto. A report of the luncheon can be read elsewhere, written by Mrs. Caroline Ion, Women's Editor of the Era and Express, the official representative at the luncheon.

A corn roast will be held in King Memorial Park under the auspices of the Lake Marie and King Athletic Assoc. on Friday evening, Sept. 7. A good time is promised by the association.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cassia of Uxbridge called on Mrs. T. L. Williams on Monday.

Temperanceville Church

Successful services were held at Temperanceville United church Sunday to mark the reopening after a period of extensive renovation. Large congregations attended. They heard impressive messages and music by the 16-voice ladies' choir.

The walls of the church are painted in soft aqua, the chancel in dusty rose, corresponding with color effects of the stained glass windows. The natural color maple flooring and the pews gleam with new finish. The doors leading into the auditorium are freshly felt covered, the handiwork of two members of the congregation. Three-tone rose broadloom carpet covers the aisles, the altar and the choir loft.

Indirect electric lighting in chrome finish gives fine effect. Other improvements have also been made at a total cost of $3,500. In 1897, 54 years ago, the building was erected at a cost of $2,400. At the morning service, Wilbert Jennings, chairman of the board of stewards, thanked all who had contributed financially, in labor and in other capacities. He spoke on behalf of the minister, Rev. E. C. Moddle, who was conducting services at other points in the charge. The building committee, headed by W. S.

Miss Addie Thompson and Miss Flo Butt, Toronto, were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Stewart.

Mrs. M. M. Downey, Edmonton, and her sister from Hamilton called on Mrs. M. J. Winter and Mrs. E. M. Legge. Their father, Mr. Carley, and his family had once lived in the Legge house before moving to Hamilton.

Other visitors of Mrs. Legge have been her brother, Mr. Dave Paxton, his wife and daughter, Mrs. Shirley of Woodstock; her cousins, Mrs. Ruby Whitcomb and Miss Agnes Ross of Grimsby.

On Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 26, Kingcrafts Guild will resume activities with a general meeting at "Kingswood", the home of Lady Flavell, the president.

Hare, included, Mr. J. Urneham, Mr. Wm. Turner and Mr. Jennings. Mr. Bruce donated manual labor and a substantial monetary gift.

Services Impressive

The morning preacher was Rev. George W. Wood, Toronto. "The Prayer of Thanksgiving" was sung by the two-part choir and vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. Elliott McClure, singing My Cathedral, and Mrs. Harold Dickin of Weston, the daughter of Rev. Mr. Moddle, a gospel song.

At the evening service, conducted by Mr. Moddle, Rev. A. C. Huston of Victoria Square was guest preacher. "Sun of My Soul" by Edmund Turner was the anthem rendered by the choir, with the solo part taken by Miss Shirley Hare. Mrs. Fred Woods sang The Holy City.

Woodstock Organ Loaned

A complimentary gesture to the congregation of Temperanceville was the loan of a new and modern organ by the Woodstock Organ Company. An English instrument made by that company, it combines a two-manual keyboard in one, and is rich in tone. The organ has been installed for the month of September during which time special services will be held. On Sunday, Sept. 23, Robertson Masonic Lodge will hold Divine Worship at the Temperanceville church. On Sunday, Sept. 30 anniversary services will be observed.

Among those present at Temperanceville services on Sunday, were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bovair of Aurora who had served this congregation most of their lives. Mr. Bovair, an honorary elder is 92. Mrs. Bovair was the first president of the Women's Auxiliary.

Rev. G. W. Wood and his wife, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Dickey and their son of Whitchurch, were guests of Mrs. Elliott McClure for the day. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Rumble, Toronto, former members of the congregation spent the day with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Rumble, Oak Ridges, while their sons, Ron and Don, stayed with their cousin, Gerald Jennings. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clift of King were guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. Canning.

FAMILY FUN NIGHT

An evening of "Family Fun" is being planned by the King Township Credit Union for Wednesday, Sept. 12, at the community sidewalk and the new highway. It is open to all Credit Union members and their families, friends and their neighbors—that is, everyone in the township.

The program which starts at 7 p.m. with sports for the youngsters, includes a winter road and corn ball, followed by entertainment. For those not fully acquainted with the location of the event, the community sidewalk runs west off the 5th concession road, about midway between King sidewalk and the Aurora sidewalk.

mission is becoming a subject of increasing discussion in Aurora, the last of which, it may truly be forecast, has not yet been heard.

He was also appointed a member of the recreation commission, an organization of which he was principal founder and which has become recognized as one of the most active and beneficial welfare movements in Aurora. To this organization Mr. Swindle has given unstinted service, both by head and hand. Large numbers of Aurora children have been made happy through the work he has carried out on their behalf.

What Manner of Man?

What manner of man is Tom Swindle? His outstanding characteristic could be described as aggressiveness. He hates slipshod work! If a thing has to be done he believes in getting on with it without any shilly-shallying. Where shilly-shallying exists Tom Swindle's tongue is apt to get sharp. Such outspokenness is resented by the shilly-shallyers.

Having regularly attended the bi-monthly meetings of the Aurora recreation commission, we have been able to watch Tom Swindle at close quarters. He has always impressed us as an essentially warm-hearted man whose bark is worse than his bite.

Of course he can "bite" when that is the only course left. But he "bites" in a manner of almost pleasant decorum. Where most men would lose their temper, Tom Swindle remains cool and collected. He may be inwardly ruffled, but he shows no outward sign of it. We admire a man who remains master of his emotions. An angry man is always a sorry spectacle. Besides, he makes himself the more vulnerable to attack.

Mr. Swindle is a good speaker. He possesses a good vocabulary and can state his arguments with convincing lucidity. It has been said that he talks too much. Many men talk a great deal and say nothing. Whatever Mr. Swindle says there is something to it.

Should Come Back

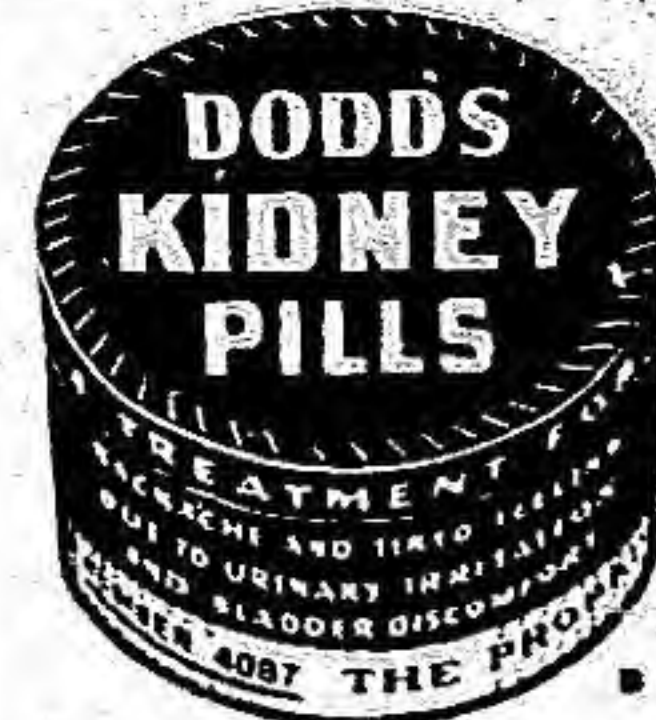

Tom Swindle retired from municipal activities to devote himself to what was dear to his heart, namely, the work of the Recreation Commission. He has seen that enterprise flourish and exceed his highest expectations. Fringed on a shoe-string, (and a borrowed shoe string at that), its operations extend into thousands of dollars annually. 1951 has been its best year.

People are saying that Tom should return to the town council, where his understanding of municipal affairs, his vision and energy would be of the greatest assistance to Aurora at this time. There is no office in the town council which he could not successfully fill. He would make a good mayor or a good councillor.

There is one thing more. He would be nobody's tool. He would do what he could in the public interest, not in the interest of cliques. A little bit of shilly-shallying wouldn't turn his head. For all these reasons, and because good local government is so much needed, we hope he will decide to come back for another election in November. In the shakeup that is certainly coming, Tom Swindle would find himself in office.
